GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORY

In "A Century of Maryville College—A Story of Altruism," written by President Wilson, and published by the Directors in 1916, has been gathered a record of the first one hundred years of the institution's life. A fuller statement regarding this book will be found elsewhere in this catalog. In the following paragraphs the history of the College is recorded in brief.

Maryville College, like most of the older colleges, grew out of the zeal that the pioneers of the American church had for the education of the people. The same year (1802) in which Isaac Anderson was ordained to the ministry by the Presbytery of Union, he founded within the bounds of his Grassy Valley congregation, near Knoxville, a school which he called "Union Academy," but which was popularly known as "the Log College." He built for it a large four-roomed log house. In this, for the times, pretentious building, many men who afterwards served their country well received their education. Among this number was Governor Reynolds, of Illinois. Dr. Anderson, in 1812, removed to Maryville and took charge of New Providence Church, of which organization he remained pastor till his death, which took place in 1857. In Maryville he continued his academic work. The most famous pupil of this Maryville academy was Sam Houston, who afterward had so unique and picturesque a career as general, governor, president of Texas, congressman, and patriot.

Dr. Anderson, however, felt that more should be done toward providing an educated ministry for the Southwest. Encouraged by others like-minded with himself, he founded Maryville College in 1819. The institution was born of the moral and spiritual needs of the early settlers of East Tennessee—chiefly Scotch-Irish Presbyterians—and was designed principally to educate for the ministry men who should be native to the soil. The grand motive of the founder may be stated in his own words: "LET THE DIRECTORS AND MANAGERS OF THIS SACRED INSTITUTION PROPOSE THE GLORY OF GOD AND THE ADVANCEMENT OF THAT KINGDOM PURCHASED BY THE BLOOD OF HIS ONLY BEGOTTEN SON AS THEIR SOLE OBJECT." Inspired by such a motive, Dr. Anderson gathered a class of five candidates for the ministry in the fall of 1819, and in prayer and faith began what proved to be the principal work of his life. In the ensuing forty-two years the institution put one hundred and fifty men into the ministry. Its endowment, gathered by littles through all these years, was only sixteen thousand dollars.

Then came the Civil War, which suspended the work of the institution for five years, and the College came out of the general wreck with little save its good name and precious history.

After the war the Synod of Tennessee, moved by the spirit of self-preservation, and by a desire to promote Christian education in the Central South, resolved to revive Maryville College. The institution was reopened in 1866. New grounds and new buildings were an imperative necessity. To meet this need, sixty-five thousand dollars was secured, and the College was saved from extinction. The consequent growth was so great that the securing of an endowment also became a necessity. Professor Thomas Jefferson Lamar, the second founder of the College, took up the great task of securing this endowment, and labored with unceasing toil and self-denial until success was attained. In response to his appeal, in 1883, a few generous friends — William Thaw, William E. Dodge, Preserved Smith, Dr. Sylvester Willard, and others — contributed an endowment fund of one hundred thousand dollars. During the canvass for the fund, Professor Lamar lost his only child by death. This loss and the strain of the canvass proved so heavy a burden that his health failed, and two years later he passed away. In 1891, Daniel Fayerweather, counseled by Dr. Hitchcock, a friend of President Bartlett and Professor Lamar, bequeathed to the College the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, and also made it one of twenty equal participants in the residuary estate. The College received two hundred and twenty-four thousand dollars by the provisions of the will. This magnificent donation enabled the institution to enlarge its work and to enter upon a new era of usefulness and influence. On January 1, 1905, Mr. Ralph Voorhees, of New Jersey, made a munificent donation of one hundred thousand dollars to the general endowment fund of the College. The gift was subject to an annuity during the lifetime of Mrs. Voorhees. The reception of this benefaction filled the hearts of Maryville's friends with confidence and gratitude.

In 1906, the rapid growth in the number of students having made necessary much further enlargement of the teaching force and of the material equipment of the institution, President Wilson entered upon a campaign for additional endowment. Mr. Andrew Carnegie offered the College twenty-five thousand dollars on condition that fifty thousand dollars additional be secured. In 1907, the General Education Board pledged fifty thousand dollars on condition that one hundred and fifty thousand dollars be secured from other sources. Mr. Carnegie then increased his pledged to fifty thousand dollars toward this larger fund. The time limit set for the completion of the fund was December 31, 1908. In the face of many difficulties, the President, with reliance upon the favor of God, prosecuted the campaign for the "Forward Fund of Two Hundred Thousand Dollars." In order to meet the spirit as well as the letter of the requirements of the conditional pledges, it was necessary to raise twenty-five thousand dollars more than the designated sum. When the canvass closed, the subscriptions amounted to the splendid sum of two hundred and twenty-seven thousand dollars. The fact that, in spite of the recent panic and hard times, the uneasiness of a presidential year, and the ill health of the canvasser, the "Forward Fund" was secured, filled the Faculty, Directors, and friends of the College with a deep sense of gratitude to God, and to his human agents who took part with Maryville in its ministry to the noble youth of mountain and valley in its Southern Appalachian field.

During the next few years there were, besides a steady increase of the permanent scholarship and annuity funds and numerous contributions for minor but pressing needs of the College, several notable advances made: (1) by the gift of an endowment of sixteen thousand dollars by an anonymous donor, a Home Economics Department was established; (2) by the gift of thirteen thousand and five hundred dollars by the late Louis H. Severance, Esq., a third story was added to Pearsons Hall, providing dormitory room for fifty additional young women; (3) by the additional gift of twelve thousand dollars by the anonymous donor of the Mary Esther Home Economics endowment fund, it was possible for the College to add a third story to Fayerweather Science Hall in order to provide quarters for the Home Economics Department; (4) by the gift of twenty-three thousand dollars by the people of Maryville and Blount County, and by other gifts, as described in detail on another page, Carnegie Hall was rebuilt larger and better than before the fire that destroyed it; and (5) chiefly by the gift of Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, additional dormitory rooms for fifty young women were, in 1918, built is a fourth story to Pearsons Hall.

In January, 1916, the General Education Board, of New York, coming to Maryville's help for a second time, made a generous pledge of $75,000 to the resources of the College, on condition that $225,000 in addition be secured from other sources. The burning of Carnegie Hall made it necessary that $25,000 be added to the total fund that was sought, thus increasing it to $325,000. The war intermitted the campaign for the fund, but it was renewed in March, 1919, and was carried to successful completion by the first of the following June. Not only was the Centennial Forward Fund of $325,000 secured, but additional amounts that could not, according to the conditions specified by the General Education Board, be counted toward this Fund, were subscribed, that brought up the amount pledged (including the $325,000 fund and a large memorial building) to a grand total of $541,939.

Three causes conspired to make another large increase of endowment an imperative necessity: (1) The World War's upsetting of values and creation of increased cost of rents, fuel, and living in general, and, consequently, of heavier bills for supplies and larger budgets for salaries. (2) The unparalleled growth of the College, with the corresponding necessity of the provision of additional teaching force and equipment. Between 1918 and 1923, the college enrollment increased one hundred per cent. (3) The necessity to keep pace with the current magnificent forward march of our American college system of education, and to provide as efficiently for Maryville's students as do any other accredited colleges for their clientage.

In view of these facts, the College engaged in a campaign seeking to secure an Emergency Forward Fund of $300,000, including an Athletic Fund sought by the Alumni and Old Students. To this Emergency endowment fund liberal appropriations were made by the General Education Board, the Carnegie Corporation of New York, and the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education. The Alumni Gymnasium erected by the Alumni and Old Students is described on another page.

As the result of the generous contributions made through many years by many philanthropic donors, the College now owns property and endowment to the total amount of one million seven hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars. Of this amount one million and seventy-three thousand dollars is invested in endowment and the remainder in buildings and equipment. On four hundred and fifty-one thousand dollars of the permanent assets, annuities are paid by the College.

Three hundred and thirty-three of the alumni have entered the ministry, while eighty-four post-bellum alumni and undergraduates have been or are missionaries in Japan, China, Siam, Korea, Malaysia, India, Persia, Syria, Africa, the Philippines, Colombia, Venezuela, Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Cuba, and Porto Rico. Many are laboring in home missions. All the alumni are engaged in honorable pursuits. Students who have gone from the College to the theological, medical, legal, and other professional schools have usually attained to high rank in their classes. A goodly number of the alumni are now studying in theological seminaries.

The necessary expenses are so phenomenally low as to give the institution a special adaptation to the middle class and to the struggling poor of valley and mountain—the great mass of the surrounding population—and to young people of other sections of the country where the cost of attending college is beyond their ability to defray.

The privileges of the institution are, of course, open alike to all young men and young women of good moral character irrespective of their religious affiliation. All the leading denominations are largely represented in the student body.

LOCATION

Maryville is a pleasant and thriving community of more than ten thousand inhabitants. It is widely known as "the town of schools and churches." It is sixteen miles south of Knoxville. There are five trains a day each way between Maryville and Knoxville on the Southern Railway and two on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad. Omnibuses and automobiles make frequent trips daily each way between Maryville and Knoxville.

Maryville is an ideal health resort for students from other States. The town lies on the hills, one thousand feet above sea level, and enjoys the life-giving breezes from the Chilhowees and the Smokies, a few miles away. Young people from the North and other sections are greatly benefited in health by a year at Maryville, and many such students take their entire course here.

COLLEGE STATION POST OFFICE

A branch of the United States post office at Maryville is located in Anderson Hall. All of the usual post office conveniences are furnished. Mail is delivered to the dormitories and offices. Students should have their mail addressed, College Station, Maryville, Tennessee, adding the name of the dormitory in which they room, and their room number.

GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS

The college grounds consist of two hundred and fifty acres, and for beautiful scenery are not surpassed by any in the country. They are elevated and undulating, covered with a beautiful growth of evergreens and with a noble forest, and command a splendid view of the Cumberland Mountains on the north, and of the Smoky Mountains on the south. The location is as remarkable for its healthfulness as it is for its beauty. The campus affords the choicest facilities for the development of athletics.

On these grounds there are eighteen buildings, which, together with the grounds and equipment, represent an investment of more than seven hundred thousand dollars. The buildings are heated with steam from the central power plant on the campus, and are lighted with electricity, and are abundantly supplied with pure water for drinking as well as for toilet facilities and for fire protection. The buildings, except two residences, are more fully described in the following paragraphs.

Anderson Hall is the oldest of the present college halls, having been built in 1869, and named in honor of the founder of the institution. It contains the administrative offices and a number of recitation rooms for the literary departments. The large addition to the Hall, the Fayerweather Annex, was erected in 1892.

Baldwin Hall, named in honor of the late John C. Baldwin, of New Jersey, is a dormitory for young women. It contains rooms for one hundred and forty students. It is provided, as are all the dormitories, with all modern conveniences, and is a comfortable home for young women.

Memorial Hall, originally built as a companion building to Baldwin Hall, contains rooms for sixty young women. It is kept in excellent repair, and is a comfortable and well-equipped dormitory.

Willard Memorial, the home of the President, was provided in 1890 by a generous gift of Mrs. Jane F. Willard, in memory of her husband, Sylvester Willard, M.D. It adorns the campus, and is a valuable property.

THE LAMAR MEMORIAL LIBRARY HALL was erected in 1888 at a cost of five thousand five hundred dollars, which amount was generously provided by three friends of Professor Lamar and of the College. The large memorial window was contributed by the brothers and sisters of Professor Lamar. The building is a fitting monument of Professor Lamar.

BARTLETT HALL is one of the largest college Y. M. C. A. buildings in the South. Planned for by the students led by Kin Takahashi, a Japanese student, it was erected by contributions made or secured by the Bartlett Hall Building Association, supplemented by a large appropriation by the college authorities. A liberal donation made by Mrs. Nettie F. McCormick in 1901 enabled the committee to complete the building. In 1911, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Voorhees made a generous gift providing for extensive alterations and improvements. The Y. M. C. A. auditorium, parlors, and secretary's and committees' apartments occupy the front part of the building, while a gymnasium occupies the rest of the structure.

FAYERWEATHER SCIENCE HALL was erected in 1898 through the liberal bequest of Daniel B. Fayerweather. The building as erected was two stories in height. The first floor contains spacious laboratories for chemistry, a lecture-room, storerooms, an office, and the John C. Branner Scientific Library. The second floor contains lecture-rooms and laboratories for physics and biology. The laboratories are furnished with electric current and with gas. The building is thoroughly modern in every respect. It is provided with liberal equipment for the practical study of science, and will stand a useful and lasting monument to the intelligent philanthropy of the princely giver whose name it bears. In 1913 the anonymous donor of the Mary Esther Memorial Fund that provided for the establishment of the Home Economics Department, also contributed funds for the building of the third and fourth floors of this hall for the housing of the Home Economics Department, as an additional memorial of her mother. The third floor contains, besides cloak-rooms, storerooms, closets, toilets, and lockers, a reading-room, dining-room, kitchen, sewing-room, lecture-room, and one small and one large laboratory. On the fourth floor are three rooms for general purposes.

THE ELIZABETH R. VOORHEES CHAPEL was erected in 1905-1906 by gifts made by the late Mr. Ralph Voorhees, of New Jersey, and by other donors. The chapel, named in honor of Mrs. Voorhees, graces one of the most commanding sites on the grounds, and is well worthy of its place of distinction. The auditorium seats nine hundred persons and can be arranged to accommodate two hundred or three hundred more. The building also contains thirty-five rooms, occupied by the Departments of Music and Expression.

THE RALPH MAX LAMAR MEMORIAL HOSPITAL, named in honor of Mrs. Lamar's only son, who died in infancy, was built in 1909 through the generosity of Mrs. Martha A. Lamar, a life-long friend of the College. Her gift of six thousand dollars provided a thoroughly modern hospital building, containing eleven wards, caretakers' rooms, baths, toilets, an operating-room, and other appointments of a well-ordered hospital.

Carnegie Hall.—In connection with the "Forward Fund" secured in 1908, Mr. Andrew Carnegie gave the sum of fifty thousand dollars for a dormitory for young men. The building was occupied at the opening of the fall term in 1910, and was dedicated on January 11, 1911. On April 12, 1916, the building was totally destroyed by the only serious fire occurring in the history of the College. The insurance of thirty thousand dollars was promptly paid, and preparations for rebuilding were immediately begun. On May 4, 1916, the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, through a committee of sixty leading business men, undertook to raise a rebuilding fund of twenty-five thousand dollars among the citizens of Maryville and Blount County. Of this amount, the faculty of the College subscribed five thousand dollars. The new building was completed in December, 1916, at a cost of nearly seventy thousand dollars, and was occupied at the opening of the winter term in January, 1917. It contains rooms for two hundred and thirty-five young men. Each of the two large wings contains a suite for the use of a proctor and his family. The building is in every way satisfactory, and is one of the best college dormitories in the South.

Pearsons Hall.—No benefaction of recent years has proven more immediately serviceable than the gift of twenty thousand dollars made in 1908 by the late Dr. D. K. Pearsons, of Chicago. The building named in his honor provided additional dormitory facilities for young women, and a greatly needed new boarding hall. The first story contains a dining-room, with a seating capacity of six hundred, the kitchen, offices, and waiting-rooms. The second story contains parlors, halls for the young women's literary societies, and rooms for thirty-four occupants. The third story was added during the vacation months of 1912, increasing the capacity of the dormitory so that fifty additional young women could secure rooms. This story was a gift of the late Louis H. Severance, Esq., of Cleveland, Ohio, "an admirer of Dr. Pearsons, who esteemed it a privilege to put this crowning story upon his building." In 1918, the hitherto unfinished fourth floor was converted into dormitory rooms, providing increased capacity for fifty more young women.

The Swimming Pool.—In the original plans of Bartlett Hall, as secured by Kin Takahashi, there was provision made for the building of a swimming pool beneath the gymnasium. Lack of funds prevented the construction of the pool. In April, 1914, the Y. M. C. A. cabinet led in a movement, which rallied around it the entire student body, looking to the construction of the proposed pool. The enthusiastic efforts of the students completed the raising of fifteen hundred dollars in cash toward the cost of the pool. The college authorities then undertook the building of the pool. The total cost was ten thousand dollars. It was opened for use at the opening of the fall term, 1915. The pool occupies a separate building fifty-eight by one hundred and ten feet. The pool itself is twenty-five by seventy-five feet in dimensions. All the appointments of the building are those approved by the best architects. The pool is a means of health and of useful sport to the students.

The Class of '16 Fountain.—In the spring of 1916 the graduating class of the College, by its own labor, constructed the Class of '16 Fountain, and presented it to the College during Commencement Week. The fountain, built of reinforced concrete and trimmed with Tennessee marble, is located on one of the principal walks, between Anderson and Fayerweather Halls.

"The House in the Woods," situated in a picturesque part of the spacious college campus, was built and endowed in 1917 for the use of the present College Pastor and his successors, by a life-long friend of Mrs. William P. Stevenson, as a memorial of Mrs. Stevenson's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper. It is a thoroughly well-built house, provided with every modern convenience, and together with its charming woodland setting, makes a most attractive and comfortable home.

Thaw Hall, the largest structure on College hill, costing over one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, was begun in 1920. The second floor was first used for recitations in September, 1921. The building measures two hundred and thirty feet in length and one hundred and forty feet in depth. This noble building, made necessary by the great growth of the institution, was made possible by the generosity of Mrs. Mary C. Thaw. At the urgent request of the directors, the faculty, and the students of the College, to the end that the long-continued helpfulness of the Thaw family in the upbuilding of Maryville College should be kept in memory, the donor consented, though reluctantly, that the building should be named Thaw Memorial Hall. The building occupies the central place in the plans of the architects and landscape gardeners for the development of the campus, as those plans were recently adopted by the college authorities.

The Alumni Gymnasium.—In 1922, as the first result of the Alumni and Former Students' Athletic Campaign, an excellent and ample athletic field, five hundred feet square in its dimensions, was graded. In the fall of 1923, as the second result of the same campaign, an additional gymnasium, to be known as the Alumni Gymnasium, was built and occupied. The alumni, old students, present students, and the local post of the American Legion contributed toward the erection of the building. The gymnasium is one hundred and ten feet square, and has maple floors and collapsible tiers of seats, and is well lighted and heated.

THE POWER PLANT.—Heat for all the buildings is furnished from the central power house situated on the campus. The Webster Vacuum System of steam heating is used, and the buildings are quickly and uniformly heated. Steam from the plant is used also for cooking and for dish-washing at the Boarding Club.

THE LAMAR MEMORIAL LIBRARY

The Lamar Library is one of the largest college libraries in the State. The number of books now on the shelves is about twenty-one thousand. The library is now housed in its new attractive and commodious quarters in Thaw Hall, and is open for the drawing of books or for the consulting of volumes in the reference alcoves for eleven hours every day from Monday to Saturday. The nucleus of a much needed endowment for the library has been secured, the fund now amounting to $11,205. Among the gifts making up the endowment are the following:

The "M. T." Fund, 1900, given by a friend	$500
The Helen Gould Fund, 1900, by Mrs. Helen Gould Shepard, New York	500
The Hollenback Fund, 1901, by J. W. Hollenback, Esq., Wilkesbarre, Pa	500
The Solomon Bogart Fund, 1908 and 1919, by Miss Martha M. Bogart, Philadelphia, Tenn	500
The Nina Cunningham Fund, 1909, by the sons of the late Major Ben Cunningham, Treasurer of the College, in memory of their sister, Miss Nina Cunningham, '91	500
The John M. Alexander English Literature Fund, 1909 and 1920, by John M. Alexander, D.D., '87, and wife, Maryville, Tenn	1,000
The Charles T. Cates, Jr., Fund, 1909 and 1923, by Hon. C. T. Cates, Jr., '81, former Attorney-General of the State of Tennessee	1,000
The George Glenn Cooper Fund, 1910-1917, by the parents, brother, and sister of the late George Glenn Cooper	450
The Faculty Fund, 1910, by members of the Faculty	1,000
The Gamble Fund, 1910 and 1924, by Hon. M. H. Gamble, '05, Hon. Andrew Gamble, and A. M. Gamble, M.D., Maryville, Tenn	360
The Philadelphia Fund, 1909-1918, by a Friend, Philadelphia, Pa	425
The Class Funds, '09, '10, '11, '12, and '13	1,295
Contributions in amounts of less than $250	3,174

THE LOAN LIBRARY

James R. Hills Library.—In 1888 Miss Sarah B. Hills, of New York, contributed a fund of six hundred dollars for the establishment of a Loan Library, in order that students unable to purchase the necessary text-books might have the privilege of renting them at a nominal rate. By judicious management the income from this fund has grown until now the privileges of this library are open to all students, and all the regular text-books used in the institution may be either rented or purchased. An additional gift of five hundred dollars from the same donor in 1908 made it possible to provide the text-books in use in the Bible Training Department. The rental charged a term is about one-fifth the retail price of each book. The income from rentals is devoted to supplying new books as they are needed. The library occupies a room in Anderson Hall, and is open every day.

THE BOARDING CLUB

No other agency has been of greater service in enabling the College to keep the expense to its students at a minimum than has the popular and successful Boarding Club. The price of board, which is fixed approximately at the beginning of each year, and is not advanced unless absolutely necessary, is based upon the cost of food and service, plus the cost to the College for the maintenance of the Club's quarters. Every endeavor will be made to keep the price for the ensuing year from exceeding $3.50 a week, the present estimate. A deposit to the amount of one month's board bill is required in advance of each member of the Club, and settlements are thereafter made at the end of every fourth week. Because of the minimum rates at which board is furnished, a member's account with the Club is reckoned from the beginning of the college month during which he enters. A considerable number of students are employed as waiters and assistants in the dining-room, who are thereby enabled to reduce the cost of their board by one-half. The privileges of the Club are extended to all male students and to all young women rooming in the college dormitories. The membership of the Club has been about six hundred this year.

STUDENTS' ORGANIZATIONS

Literary Societies.—Four literary societies are conducted by the students, and are of the greatest benefit to those who avail themselves of the advantages they offer. The ATHENIAN, organized in 1868, and the ALPHA SIGMA, organized in 1882, are composed of young men. Their halls are on the third floor of Anderson Hall. The BAINONIAN, organized in 1875, and the THETA EPSILON, organized in 1894, are conducted by the young women. They have neatly furnished halls in Pearsons Hall. The societies meet every Saturday evening to engage in debates and other literary exercises. Each society gives annually a public midwinter entertainment.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.—The Y. M. C. A., established in 1877, is one of the strongest organizations of its kind in the South. The weekly devotional meetings are held on Wednesday evenings in the auditorium of Bartlett Hall The officers of the Association are as follows: President, Edgar Cathey; Secretary, Robert Bishop. The Advisory Committee of the Y. M. C. A., composed of representatives of the Faculty and of the student body, directs the general policies of the Association. It consists of the following members: Class of 1925: Professor McMurray, Chairman, Professor Gillingham, and Dewey Eitner; Class of 1926: Treasurer Proffitt, Major Will A. McTeer, and Edward Hamilton; Class of 1927: President Wilson, Principal Ellis, and Robert Harvey.

The Y. W. C. A. was established in 1884, and is one of the most wholesome influences in the religious life of the College. The Association has attractively furnished rooms, where social gatherings and the weekly devotional meetings on Sabbath afternoon are held. The Association has a small but valuable library, known as the Florence McManigal Memorial Library. It was contributed by Rev. J. Oscar Boyd, Ph.D., D.D., Secretary of the American Bible Society, at Cairo, Egypt, and his wife, as a memorial to their sister, Miss McManigal, '08, who was an instructor in the Preparatory School and who died in 1909. The officers of the Association are as follows: President, Mary Tippit; Secretary, Estelle Woodall. Advisory Committee: Mrs. W. P. Stevenson, Miss Clemmie Henry, Miss Mary E. Caldwell, Mrs. W. M. Caldwell, Mrs. J. L. Tweed, Mrs. L. E. Bond, and Mrs. Sam H. Franklin.

The Athletic Association.—This organization is composed of the entire student body by virtue of the payment of the students' activities fee. The Advisory Board of the Association, composed of representatives of the Faculty, the students, and former students, meets at stated intervals and cooperates with the Athletic Directors and the Faculty Committee on Athletics in exercising oversight over the athletic events of the College.

The members of the Advisory Board, whose officers are also the officers of the Athletic Association, are as follows: President, James W. King; Vice-President, Robert Thrower; Secretary, Lewis Veech; Treasurer and Official Buyer, Treasurer Proffitt; Faculty Representatives, President Wilson, Professors Knapp and McMurray; Student Representatives, Elizabeth Montgomery, Lucile Heiskell, Doris Musick, and Joe C. Gamble; Town Representatives, David W. Proffitt, '16, and Dr. Burchfiel.

The Ministerial Association, organized in 1900, is composed of those students that are candidates for the Christian ministry. It has for its object the enlistment of its members in various forms of active Christian work and the discussion of themes relating to the work of the ministry.

The Student Volunteer Band.—The College has from its earliest history been identified with foreign missions, and has sent out eighty-four missionaries into seventeen foreign countries. Since 1894 the students have maintained a Student Volunteer Band, composed of those who are pledged to enter some foreign field, if the way be open. The Band meets weekly to study missionary fields and conditions.

The Law Club.—The young men that are studying with a view to entering the profession of law maintain an organization known as the Law Club. Their purpose is to familiarize themselves with the features of their contemplated life work, and to develop high moral standards and ideals in connection with their profession.

The Pre-Medical Club.—Students preparing for the practice of medicine, including both those in the regular classes and those taking the special pre-medical course, have organized with a view to a better understanding of the problems and interests of the medical profession.

The Chemistry Club.—Interest in chemical science has led to the organization of a club whose object is to stimulate collateral reading and investigation on the part of the students of chemistry.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Alumni Association was formed in 1871. It holds its annual meeting on the evening before Commencement Day, when a banquet is given by the Association. The officers for 1924-1925 are as follows: President, Charles W. Henry, '01; Vice President, D. Malcolm Miles, '24; Secretary, Horace E. Orr, '12; Executive Committee: Class of 1925: M. Blaine Crum, '17, Stanley C. Lange, '22, and Moses H. Gamble, '05; Class of 1926: D. Riley Haworth, '93, J. Claude McTeer, '07, and Nellie P. McCampbell, '09; Class of 1927: Lester E. Bond, '14, Homer Goddard, '12, and Raymond O. Smith, '16; Manager of the Alumni and Former Students Athletic Campaign, Horace E. Orr, '12.

The Association has been engaged, during the past four years, in an effort to raise a fund of $50,000, for the purpose of providing adequate athletic equipment for the College. This movement has enlisted the hearty support of alumni and former students. As a result, a new and beautiful athletic field has been provided. A new Alumni Gymnasium, also, has been completed, with floor space and seating facilities adequate for all the indoor athletics of the College for many years to come. Pledges to this fund are being paid as they fall due, and it is hoped that the campaign may be brought to a successful close in the near future.

THE Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A. LYCEUM COURSE

For several years the Y. M. C. A. conducted for the student body and the public a course of lectures and entertainments. The course is now under the joint management of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. The course consists of four numbers: popular lectures, musical, elocutionary, or dramatic entertainments of the highest order of excellence. The course is provided at a very small cost to the student, the cost being included in the students' activities fee. Tickets are sold also to the public, but at a higher rate.

FORENSIC CONTESTS

Maryville College, together with six other Tennessee colleges, has entered an intercollegiate forensic league known as the Tennessee Intercollegiate Forensic League. The central event of the activities of this League is an annual oratorial contest.

In 1922-1923, the Tennessee Oratorical League was revived after a lapse of a number of years, and an annual prize of $100 was provided by the estate of Mr. John A. Patten, of Chattanooga. The institutions composing the League are Cumberland University, Maryville College, The University of Chattanooga, The University of the South, and Vanderbilt University.

The College annually engages in a number of intercollegiate debates. Ordinarily two teams are organized among the men and one among the young women of the College. Credit is given for participation in intercollegiate debates.

PRIZES

The William H. Bates Oratorical Prize Foundation.—The late Rev. William H. Bates, D.D., of Greeley, Col., contributed the sum of one thousand dollars to form a fund, the annual income from which is to be used to provide a prize in oratory. The winner of the Bates Prize in Oratory in 1924 was Bertha Mae Russell, '24. The contests are open to the men of the Junior and Senior Classes in one year, and to the women of the Junior and Senior Classes in the next year. In 1925, the contest is for the young men.

The Bible Training Department Prize Foundation.—An additional gift of $2,000 was made by the late Rev. William H. Bates, D.D., of Greeley, Col., for the establishment of this foundation. The income of the foundation shall constitute a fund to be known as the Bates Bible Prize, which shall annually be awarded, under certain stipulations, for proficiency in the courses of the Bible Training Department. The foundation is subject to an annuity.

The T. T. Alexander Prize.—A prize of one hundred dollars in gold is contributed annually by a generous friend of the College, who desires to remain anonymous, and to have the prize named in honor of one of Maryville's foreign missionaries. The prize is awarded to the winner of an oratorical contest conducted under the supervision of the Bible Training Department. The subjects chosen for the contest in 1925, in which young women will participate; and in 1926, in which young men will participate, are the following: The Deity of Jesus Christ; Christ's Atonement for Sin; The Resurrection; and Salvation through Faith. The winner of the contest in 1924 was Edward G. Cornelius, '25.

The Elizabeth Hillman Chemistry Prize Fund.—The sum of $1,000 was contributed, in 1919, by Miss Sara F. Hillman, of Pittsburgh, Pa., to establish a fund, the income of which will be used, at the discretion of the donor, to provide "a prize or prizes to be awarded to women students for excellence attained in the Department of Chemistry." The prizes offered in 1924, together with the respective winners, were as follows: First Prize Essay, $30, Mae Davis, '24; Second Prize Essay, $20, Alta Bradford, '26; Best Chemical Preparation, $25, Lois McCulloch, '26.

THE TEMPERANCE PRIZE.—The College takes advantage of the generous offer of the Department of Temperance and Moral Welfare of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education in accepting the Board's prize of twenty-five dollars to be given for the best oration on the theme of temperance and moral welfare.

THE RUSH STRONG MEDAL.—Under the provisions of the will of the late Mr. Benjamin Rush Strong, of Knoxville, Tenn., a gold medal, valued at "not less than fifteen, nor more than twenty-five dollars," and known as the Rush Strong Medal, is annually granted to the college student "who shall compose the best essay upon the subject: The Value of Truth." The medal was won in 1924 by Robert Wood, '27.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

Classes are conducted by the physical directors daily, and all students, except members of the Junior and Senior Classes, are required to avail themselves of the privilege afforded, unless excused by reason of physical disability, or of being members of regular athletic teams. Excuses for any other reason must be approved by the Faculty, upon the recommendation of the Professor of Physical Training, before being accepted. A physical examination is required annually of every student. The classes for the young men and the young women meet in their respective gymnasiums and under the direction of their respective physical directors. The work offered is carefully graded and adjusted to the needs of the various classes. Credit equivalent to one recitation hour is given for each two hours' gymnasium work. Every young woman should bring a gymnasium suit, preferably consisting of a white or blue middy and blue bloomers, and gymnasium or tennis shoes. Every young man should bring a regulation white gymnasium suit, consisting of sleeveless shirt, running pants, support, and gymnasium or tennis shoes.

The swimming pool is open three days each week for the young men and on the alternating three days for the young women. Careful supervision of the pool is given at all times, and no one is permitted in the pool except when a physical director is present. The pool is kept in the best sanitary condition. Shower baths in a separate room are provided and required to be used before a person is permitted to enter the pool.

ELIGIBILITY RULES

In order that athletic and forensic contests may not militate against excellence of classroom work, but that they may become, in a measure, a direct aid in maintaining high standards of scholarship, the following regulations have been adopted, to apply to all athletic and forensic contests, except those that are intramural:

To be eligible to membership on any college team during the first semester, a student must enroll not later than the first Wednesday of October. To be eligible during the second semester, a student must enroll not later than the first week of that semester.

No person who is not a regularly matriculated student, enrolled for the required program of fifteen hours a week, and certified by his instructors to be maintaining a passing grade in twelve hours, shall represent the College in any athletic or forensic contest.

Eligibility reports are made by the instructor bi-weekly beginning with the third Wednesday of the first semester, upon all candidates for positions on any college team. Disqualification because of failure to meet the requirements set forth in these rules becomes effective on the Tuesday immediately following the Wednesday on which such disqualification is reported by the instructor, and is operative for two full weeks from the time of its going into effect.

Special students are not eligible to represent the College in athletic contests.

MEDICAL ATTENTION

The Ralph Max Lamar Memorial Hospital, spoken of elsewhere, is available for all students. In cases of slight illness no charge is made for nursing, but the patient pays $5.25 a week for the use of the ward, and for board and laundry. In cases of serious illness demanding more than ordinary time and attention, a nominal charge is also made for the nursing. On Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday of each week free medical consultation and prescription by approved physicians are provided at the hospital for out-of-town students. Any other medical attention, however, that may be required must be paid for by the student. These privileges have been responded to with marked appreciation by the student body, and the medical attention thus afforded has been of great service in the prevention and checking of serious illness.

SELF-HELP

The College offers opportunities of self-help to a large nmuber of deserving young men and young women. About four hundred annually avail themselves of such opportunities. The work offered includes manual labor on the grounds, janitor service in the various buildings, dining-room and kitchen service at the Boarding Club, sewing in the home economics workroom, office work, and work as assistants in laboratories or libraries.

These forms of employment are paid for at a rate varying according to the degree of skill and responsibility involved. Indoor work is allotted usually to students that have previously given proof of their ability and worth. Positions of exceptional responsibility, such as janitor service and work as assistants, are granted for a year in advance, the assignment being made during the summer vacation. Assistants in any department are elected by the Faculty upon the recommendation of the head of the department.

Application for work of any kind must be made in writing and addressed to the Faculty. The acceptance of financial aid from the College, in the form of scholarships, loans, or opportunities for work, involves especial obligation to diligence, loyalty, and the faithful discharge of duty. A student that fails to do satisfactory work or becomes an object of discipline by the Faculty will forfeit all such opportunities.

THE MARGARET E. HENRY MEMORIAL FUND

During the last thirteen years of her connection with the College, Miss Margaret E. Henry, as student-help secretary and field representative, secured contributions to current and permanent funds, amounting to $122,693.00, besides raising up a host of friends interested in the students and work of Maryville College. Immediately following Miss Henry's death on July 7, 1916, suggestions came from some of these friends that a permanent memorial fund of one hundred thousand dollars be solicited to carry on, in part, the altruistic service to which she had devoted her life. Thus far the memorial fund amounts to $32,840.00, made up of the following student-help funds:

The Julia Crouse Houser Fund, Akron, O., 1916 and 1921..... $2,000
The Mary R. Tooker Fund, East Orange, N. J., 1916 and 1921..... 2,000
The Gertrude Tooker Fund, East Orange, N. J., 1916 and 1921..... 2,000
The Dr. S. Elizabeth Winter Fund, Conshohocken, Pa., 1916..... 5,000

The Arthur B. Emmons Fund, Newport, R. I., 1916 and 1919.....$ 2,000
The Archibald Hilton Bull, Jr., Memorial Fund, 1916, by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bull, Elizabeth, N. J..... 1,000
The Julia Spencer Whittemore Memorial Fund, 1916, by Mrs. Harris Whittemore, Naugatuck, Conn..... 1,000

COLLEGE PUBLICATIONS

The official publication of the College is THE MARYVILLE COLLEGE BULLETIN. It is issued four times a year, and is sent free to any who apply for it. The May number of each year is the annual catalog. THE HIGHLAND ECHO is issued weekly by the students, the editorial staff consisting of representatives of the four literary societies, the Christian Associations, the Athletic Association, and the Alumni Association. THE CHILHOWEAN is issued annually by the Junior Class. It is a yearbook of the student body, containing a summarized record of the year's work in all the departments and organizations of the College, and is an attractive souvenir. THE MARYVILLE HANDBOOK is issued annually by the Christian Associations. It is intended to present the work of the Associations to new students, and also to assist them in adjusting themselves to their new environment.

A CENTURY OF MARYVILLE COLLEGE

At the request of The Directors of Maryville College, President Wilson, in 1916, gathered into a volume entitled "A Century of Maryville College—A Story of Altruism," the romantic story of the institution from its inception to its centennial. "It was the writer's good fortune to be at first a student and then a colleague of Professor Lamar, who in turn was a student and then a colleague of Dr. Anderson; and so the writer received almost at first hand the story of Maryville, extending from the beginning down to the time when he himself entered the faculty of the College." The Registrar will mail the book, postpaid, upon the receipt of one dollar the copy.

In 1920, the late Mrs. Martha A. Lamar published a memorial biography of her husband, Professor Thomas Jefferson Lamar, which was written by President Wilson. In it is given in some detail the remarkable story of the services of the second founder of Maryville College.

BEQUESTS AND DEVISES

Since each State has special statutory regulations in regard to wills, it is most important that all testamentary papers be signed, witnessed, and executed according to the laws of the State in which the testator resides. In all cases, however, the legal name of the corporation must be accurately given, as in the following form:

"I give and bequeath ..... to 'THE DIRECTORS OF MARYVILLE COLLEGE,' at Maryville, Tennessee, and to their successors and assigns forever, for the uses and purposes of said College, according to the provisions of its charter."

EXPENSES

It is a constant aim of the College to provide first-class college advantages to the student at the lowest possible rates, and the endowment enables it to make its charges very moderate. College bills must be paid invariably in advance. Until the required advance payments are made no one can become, or remain, a member of any of the classes Credits will not be given or diplomas of graduation issued until all accounts with the College have been satisfactorily settled. In view of the very low rates, no deduction will be made for absence at the beginning or at the end of any term, and no tuition will be refunded. Students, except those entering for the first time, that register and attend classes later than the third day of the first semester, or the first day of the second semester, pay a late registration fee of five dollars. The itemized schedule that follows gives the rates for each semester. Allowance must be made, also, for one's purely personal expenses, in addition to the bills payable to the College. This allowance will vary according to the tastes and habits of the individual student, but need not exceed one hundred dollars for the year.

ITEMIZED BILLS FOR EACH SEMESTER

(Double these rates will give the amounts for the year)

APPROXIMATE TOTAL OF COLLEGE BILLS FOR EACH SEMESTER:
For the student not taking music, expression, or art, about	120.00
For the student taking chiefly music, expression, or art, about	140.00

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

The rates in the itemized schedule do not include room rent or board for the Christmas vacation period. Carnegie and Pearsons Halls are kept open, however, and a nominal maintenance charge is collected from those that remain on the hill, and board is furnished at the most reasonable rates possible. The cost to the student that remains at the College during the Christmas holidays has not as yet exceeded $14.00 for room rent, light, heat, and board, for the entire vacation period.

ROOMS IN THE DORMITORIES

Every prospective student desiring to room in a dormitory must make a five-dollar deposit with the Registrar in order to secure a reservation. The Registrar will send the applicant a deposit receipt, which, upon presentation by the student when he enters college, will be accepted by the Treasurer for credit on the room rent to the amount and for the term specified thereon. The room, however, will not be held beyond the opening day unless the room rent is paid for the term in advance. The deposit receipt is not negotiable, and the deposit will be forfeited if the student does not enter college. Until Commencement week, old students are given preference over new applicants. After that date, rooms are assigned in the order of application.

All the dormitories are heated with steam and lighted with electricity, and are fully supplied with wardrobes, baths, and toilets. All the rooms contain the following articles of furniture: individual iron bedsteads, springs, mattresses, tables with built-in bookcases, chairs, and, for young women, dressers; for young men, chiffoniers. The student will provide bedding and any other necessity not here specified. Two students occupy one room.

ROOMS IN TOWN

Young men can find comfortable furnished rooms in private residences in convenient parts of town at prices ranging from $4.00 to $5.00 a month for each student.

LAUNDRY

In the Cooperative Laundry (young women doing their own work) ..... $0.30 a month
In town by private laundresses ..... $0.75 to $1.00 a week

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

ADMISSION TO THE FRESHMAN CLASS

An applicant for admission to the Freshman Class in any course is expected to be at least sixteen years of age, and of good moral character. He must be a graduate of an accredited, four-year high school, or show equivalent preparation as determined by entrance examinations. The minimum amount upon which any applicant may be admitted is fifteen units. A unit is the equivalent of five forty-five-minute recitation periods a week for thirty-six weeks, in subjects above the common school branches.

Admission by Certificate.—Graduates of accredited four-year high schools may be admitted without examination, provided they file with the Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Entrance before the opening day, a certificate, made and signed by their principal, showing in detail the courses of study completed. Entrance credit and classification granted on certificates are provisional, and will be canceled if the student is found to be deficient. Applicants are not admitted on diplomas. The regular application blank of the College, a copy of which will be mailed by the Registrar upon request, provides for the necessary references as to character, a pledge to orderly conduct while a member of the institution, a detailed statement of subjects completed, and a certificate of honorable dismissal from the school last attended.

Admission by Written Examination.—Written examinations will be given by the Committee on Entrance during the opening week for all candidates that have not filed certificates as provided for in the foregoing paragraph, or whose certificates may be found to be insufficient.

Time Limits for Filing Applications for Admission.—The applicant should notify the Registrar of his intention to enter college and make the required room deposit, at as early a date as possible. Certificates of credit and testimonials as to character need not be sent in until the applicant has graduated from the high school, but should be sent in as soon after graduation as possible; and, preferably, by the Principal himself. Applicants filing entrance certificates during the opening days may be required to take the entrance examinations, and in any case must await the meeting of the Committee on Entrance before being granted classification. Further delay will imperil the applicant's acceptance, for no student is granted regular classification until all credentials are approved. In exceptional cases, if some fractional part of a required unit other than English is not included among the fifteen units accepted for entrance, a limited extension of time for completing the unit may be granted, but no credit in satisfaction of entrance requirements, either by certificate or by examination, is allowed after the student passes beyond the Freshman year. The applicant should ask for a copy of the published "Rules for Scholarship, Attendance and Conduct," and see to it that he is fully prepared to meet the requirements of the College in all respects.

Distribution of Entrance Units.—The fifteen units presented by a candidate for the Bachelor's degree must be distributed as follows:

English

Three units are required. The requirement is that recommended by the National Conference on Uniform Entrance Requirements in English. The student must have a practical knowledge of technical terminology and syntax, and manifest the ability to write correctly and clearly, with good usage as to spelling, punctuation, capitalization, sentence structure, and paragraphing. His reading and studies in English and American Literature shall include the texts prescribed by the National Conference.

A fourth unit in English will be accepted from high schools whose facilities for English instruction warrant the granting of four units' credit in English.

Languages other than English

In view of the fact that many high-school students, although thoroughly prepared in general subjects for their college work, are, nevertheless, deficient in foreign-language study, the requirements in foreign languages are stated in connection with the requirements for graduation from college, in terms that include the quantity equivalent of both high-school and college work in foreign languages.

It is greatly to the student's advantage, however, to present two or four units for entrance, since by so doing he may obtain greater freedom in the matter of elective courses in college. Two additional units, or a total of six units in not more than two languages will be accepted upon evidence of exceptionally good work. First-year work in any given language is not credited for more than one unit. Such a unit may, if it evidences exceptionally good work, be accepted for entrance, but unless supported by at least one unit of advanced study, does not count toward the satisfaction of the language requirement.

The languages that may be offered, together with the number of acceptable units in each are, Latin, 2, 3, or 4; Greek, 2; French, 2; German, 2; Spanish, 2. Any credit allowed as part of the total language requirement will be immediately canceled if the student does poor language work in College, and the amount to be taken in College will be proportionately increased.

Mathematics

Two and one-half units are required. Required algebra: Elementary work taken in the grammar grades is not accepted. Higher work to a maximum of two units is accepted, but the study of algebra must, at least, include ratio and proportion, radicals, quadratics, zero and infinity, binominal theorem, and progressions. Required plane geometry: Five books, together with original demonstrations.

One elective unit in mathematics will be accepted for exceptionally good work in solid geometry (one-half unit), and plane trigonometry (one-half unit).

Science

One unit is required. This unit may be offered in General Science, Botany, Zoology, Physiology, Chemistry, or Physics, but will be allowed only one-half credit if evidence fails to show that the school had adequate facilities for the teaching of the subject, or that the student had sufficient laboratory practice to entitle him to full credit.

History

Not strictly a required subject, but an elective that is strongly recommended. One-half to one unit will be accepted for work of good quality in Ancient, Medieval and Modern, English, or Advanced United States History, or Civics, respectively. Not more than four units will be accepted in History, but in the case of exceptionally strong students one-half to one unit in Civics, when taken separately from the History, may be accepted in addition to four units in History.

Electives

Eight and one-half units are required. Any standard units of high-school work that may be needed to complete the total of fifteen units of required and elective subjects may be presented. The elective units in English, mathematics, and history, and units in foreign languages, already mentioned, may, of course, be included. Ordinarily not more than two units in vocational subjects, or more than four units in any subject not mentioned above, are accepted.

ADMISSION OF SPECIAL STUDENTS

Applicants over twenty-one years of age, who have not completed fifteen units of high-school work, but who are able to demonstrate their fitness to do college work, may be admitted to college classes as special students, not candidates for the degree, for work for which they are qualified. They have the usual privileges of the libraries, the literary societies, the dormitories, and the boarding club. In case a special student decides to become a candidate for the degree, he must satisfy the entrance requirements in full, and accept the classification to which his credits entitle him.

ADMISSION TO DEPARTMENTS OF SPECIAL INSTRUCTION

A student in any of the regular classes may take work in music, expression, or art, in connection with his regular curriculum subjects, to any amount conformable to the regulation governing required and permitted hours. Students rooming in the college dormitories, and taking chiefly music, expression, or art, are required to take also a sufficient number of literary courses to total fifteen recitation hours a week, exclusive of the physical training requirement. One private lesson a week in music, expression, or art, together with required practice and necessary supplementary work in the subject privately taken, may be counted as three hours of the required fifteen, but may not be credited toward the degree.

ADMISSION WITH COLLEGE CREDIT

Admission with credit for college courses, with or without advanced standing, is granted only upon the presentation of letters of honorable dismissal and certificates showing that the applicant, having previously had fifteen units of high-school work, had satisfactorily completed the college studies for which credit is asked. Applicants presenting themselves without letters of honorable dismissal, or whose certificates of college work show deficiencies that would have caused them to be dropped under the quality-credit rule, are not admitted. Candidates are not admitted to the graduating class for less than one full year's residence work.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

THE REQUIREMENTS IN GENERAL

The College confers only one degree in course: that of Bachelor of Arts. To attain the degree a minimum of one hundred and twenty-six semester hours of quantity credit must be completed, and, in addition, one hundred and twenty-two quality credits must be earned. Additional hours are required in the Smith-Hughes course in Vocational Home Economics, as explained in the description of that course. A semester hour, or quantity credit, is the equivalent of one hour of recitation a week for eighteen weeks; two hours (one double period) of laboratory practice being regarded as the equivalent of one recitation hour. The distribution of the one hundred and twenty-six credit hours, by years and by subjects, is shown in the following table:

Subject or Department	Freshman		Sophomore		Junior		Senior		Total No. Hours
	1st Sem.	2d Sem.	1st Sem.	2d Sem.	1st Sem.	2d Sem.	1st Sem.	2d Sem.

†One year's work in each of two departments must be taken.

‡The number of free electives increases to a possibility of 22 hours, in proportion to the number of units in foreign languages accepted for entrance.

THE REQUIREMENTS IN DETAIL

Bible and Religious Education.—OF ALL STUDENTS: 10 hours, including Courses 1, and 23 or 5. FOR THE MAJOR SEQUENCE: 24 hours, including Courses 1, 23, 4, 5, 6, and 7. FOR A MINOR: 12 hours, in any elective courses.

Education.—See Psychology.

English Language and Literature.—OF ALL STUDENTS: 9 hours, Courses 1, 2, and 3. FOR THE MAJOR SEQUENCE: 24 hours, including Courses 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, and 10 or 20. Courses 12, 13, 14, and 15 do not count as a part of the major sequence in English. The student majoring in English Language and Literature is advised, also, to do his modern-language work in French and German. FOR A MINOR: 12 hours, in any elective courses, except 12, 13, 14, or 15.

History.—OF ALL STUDENTS: 6 hours, Courses 4 and 5, or 9 and 10. FOR THE MAJOR AND MINOR SEQUENCES: See Political and Social Sciences.

Home Economics.—FOR THE MAJOR SEQUENCE: The Smith-Hughes Course, as outlined, must be taken in full. FOR A MINOR: 12 hours, in any elective courses.

Languages other than English.—OF ALL STUDENTS: In view of the fact that many high-school students, although thoroughly prepared in general subjects for their college work, are, nevertheless, deficient in foreign-language study, the requirements in foreign languages are stated in terms that include the quantity equivalent of both high-school and college work.

If the student entered with less than two units' credit in one foreign language, 30 hours, to be taken in any two languages, (Greek, Latin, French, German, Spanish) are required for graduation. If he entered with two units' credit in any one foreign language (ancient or modern), the requirement is 24 hours. If he entered with four units' credit in Latin, or two units' credit in each of two modern languages, the requirement is 12 hours. At least six hours above beginning courses, however, must be taken in each of two languages, and any language begun in College must be continued throughout the second year's work in that language in order to count toward the fulfilment of the foreign-language requirement.

The one hundred and twenty-six hours required for graduation are neither increased nor diminished by the manner in which the student satisfies the foreign-language requirement.

If no units were accepted for entrance, at least one language must be begun in the Freshman year, and a second language must be begun not later than the Sophomore year, lest the student find it impossible to complete his college course within four years.

If only first-year work in a modern language was accepted for entrance, it does not reduce the total requirement, and Freshman Courses

1 and 2 in the same language must be taken, and when completed, full credit for the year will be given.

If two years' work in one modern language was accepted for entrance, Sophomore Courses 4 and 5 in the same language may be taken in the Freshman year; or the Sophomore courses may be postponed until the Sophomore year, though not later; and, if postponed, Freshman Courses 1 and 2 in another language (Greek or modern) must be taken in the Freshman year.

If four years' work in Latin was accepted for entrance, the student is advised to study Latin for at least one year in College.

Credit for Course 1 in any language is confirmed only when credit has been earned in Course 2 in the same language.

Ancient languages: The six hours of advanced study in each of two foreign languages required for graduation, may, if desired, be taken wholly or in part in Greek and Latin. The student that expects to study theology is advised to major in Greek. The student that expects to study medicine is advised to elect at least 6 hours in Greek in addition to his work in other languages. FOR THE MAJOR SEQUENCE: 18 hours in Greek; or 18 hours in Latin, in addition to the minimum language requirement for graduation. FOR A MINOR: 12 hours in Greek, or 12 hours in Latin, in addition to the minimum language requirement for graduation.

Modern Languages: The six hours of advanced study in each of two foreign languages required for graduation, may, if desired, be taken wholly or in part in the modern languages. The student that expects to study medicine, or other scientific subjects, or to study for a Ph.D. degree, is advised to study French and German. The student that expects to enter commercial or diplomatic service is advised to study French or Spanish. FOR THE MAJOR SEQUENCE: 18 hours in French, or 18 hours in German, or 18 hours in Spanish, in addition to the minimum language requirement for graduation. FOR A MINOR: 12 hours in French, or 12 hours in German, or 12 hours in Spanish, in addition to the minimum language requirement for graduation.

Mathematics.—OF ALL STUDENTS: 3 hours, Course 2; or, if Plane Trigonometry was accepted for entrance credit, Course 4 or 9. The student that expects to study any branch of engineering is advised to major in Mathematics and to minor in Physics. FOR THE MAJOR SEQUENCE: 21 hours, including Course 2, required of all students. FOR A MINOR: 12 hours, in any elective courses.

Natural Sciences.—OF ALL STUDENTS: 12 hours, divided equally between any two of the three departments, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics. The student that expects to study medicine is advised to major in one of the natural sciences and to minor in another, and to take at least some of his free elective hours in the third. The student that expects to study any branch of engineering is advised to minor in Physics. FOR THE MAJOR SEQUENCE: 18 hours in Biology, or 18 hours in Chemistry, in addition to any hours taken to satisfy the minimum requirement for graduation. FOR A MINOR: 12 hours in Biology, or 12 hours in Chemistry, or 12 hours in Physics, in addition to any hours taken to satisfy the minimum requirement for graduation.

Philosophy.—OF ALL STUDENTS: 6 hours, Courses 3 and 4. The student is advised, also, to elect Course 2, as an aid to his subsequent work in Courses 3 and 4.

Political and Social Sciences.—OF ALL STUDENTS: No specific requirement, except that in the Smith-Hughes Course in vocational Home Economics, Courses 2 and 15 are required. Courses 10 and 11, also, may be substituted for the 6 hours of History required of all students. The student that expects to study law, or allied subjects, is advised to major in the social sciences. FOR THE MAJOR SEQUENCE: 24 hours, including the 6 hours of History required of all students. FOR A MINOR: 12 hours in elective courses.

Psychology.—OF ALL STUDENTS: 6 hours, Courses 1 and 12. The student that expects to teach is advised to major in Psychology and Education. FOR THE MAJOR SEQUENCE: 24 hours in Psychology and Education, including Courses 1 and 12. FOR A MINOR: 12 hours in elective courses.

THE COURSES IN DETAIL

The Liberal Arts Course; Bachelor of Arts with Major in any Department.—For the most satisfactory course of preparation for business or for entering any graduate school of commerce, journalism, engineering, theology, law, medicine, or any other profession, or for general culture, the student is recommended to take the four years' Liberal Arts Course as outlined below.

Freshman Year: Required—Bible 1 (3 hours, either semester); English 2 and 3 (6 hours); Ancient or Modern Languages, 6 or 12 hours (see the foregoing paragraphs, explaining the graduation requirements in detail); Mathematics 2 (3 hours, either semester; if Plane Trigonometry was offered for entrance, substitute Mathematics 4 in either the Freshman or Sophomore year, or Mathematics 9 (3 hours) in the Junior year); Natural Sciences, 6 or 12 hours; and Physical Training 1 and 2 (2 hours). Total, 32 hours.

Freshmen may not carry more than sixteen credit hours' work a semester.

Either two courses in the foreign languages and one course in science, or one course in foreign language and two courses in the sciences are taken in the Freshman year.

Sophomore Year: Required—Bible 23 or 5 (3 hours, either semester); English 1 (3 hours, either semester); History 4 and 5, or 9 and 10

(6 hours); Ancient or Modern Languages, 6 or 12 hours, as may be needed to complete graduation requirements; Natural Science, 6 hours, unless completed in the Freshman year; Physical Training 3 and 4 (2 hours). Elective—Any courses open to Sophomores, 6 hours. Total, 32 hours.

Election of Major and Minor Subjects.—Before the end of the Sophomore year, the student shall notify the Registrar, in writing, as to the department in which he elects to pursue his major subject. The major subject should be chosen with reference to the student's probable life-work. The major subject consists of eighteen semester hours of elective courses taken entirely in one department, except that not more than twenty-four semester hours, including the requirements of the Freshman and Sophomore years, need be taken in order to major in any department. The minor subject consists of twelve semester hours of elective courses taken in another department. These major and minor courses constitute the principal requirements of the Junior and Senior years and shall be elected under the direction of the head of the department in which the major subject is taken.

Junior and Senior Years: The strict enforcement of the curriculum requirements of the Freshman and Sophomore years enables the student in his Junior and Senior years to enjoy the fullest possible range of election of courses. Juniors take Psychology 1 and 12 (6 hours), and Seniors take Philosophy 3 and 4 (6 hours). The four hours required in Bible may be taken in the Junior year, or divided between the two years. The student's majors and minors will complete the list of required courses. Total, including electives, each year, 30 to 36 hours.

The Bible Training Course; Bachelor of Arts with Major in Religious Education, or Three-Year Course without Degree.—The Bible Training Department on the John C. Martin Foundation provides biblical instruction of suitable grade for all the students, and offers exceptional advantages for young men and young women wishing to prepare themselves for Christian service as lay workers, Sabbath-school workers, pastors' assistants, directors of religious education, mission teachers, or Bible readers.

The Degree Course.—For the most satisfactory course of preparation, the student is recommended to take the four years' Liberal Arts Course as outlined above, including among his major and elective subjects all the courses offered in English Bible, Bible Teaching, Religious Address, Religious Education, and History of Religious Education. Upon the completion of the course he will be graduated from the College with the degree of Bachelor of Arts with major in Religious Education.

The Non-degree Course.—A three years' course of study, not leading to a degree, is also provided. The entrance requirements are the same as for the degree course, except that any fifteen units representing graduation from an accredited four-year high school may be offered. Upon the satisfactory completion of this course, a certificate of graduation from the Bible Training Department is granted. Students are admitted to the non-degree course only upon special recommendations approving their expressed purpose to enter upon some form of religious work. The course should be taken in the following order:

Freshman Year: Bible 1, 23, 5, and 6 (12 hours); English 2 and 3 (6 hours); Greek 1 and 2, or Home Economics 16 and 20, or 17 and 18 (6 hours); Elective, 6 hours; and Physical Training 1 and 2 (2 hours). Total, 32 hours.

Sophomore Year: Bible 4, 24, 18, 19, and 20 (10 hours); English 1 (3 hours); Greek 3 and 11, or Home Economics 19 and 26, or History 4 and 5, or 9 and 10 (6 hours); Education 2 or 4 (3 hours); Social Science 1 and 2 (4 hours); Elective, 4 hours; and Physical Training 3 and 4 (2 hours). Total, 32 hours.

Junior Year: Bible 7, 27, 8, 9, and 17 (10 hours); History 9 and 10 (6 hours); Philosophy 2 (3 hours); Psychology 1 and 12 (6 hours); Elective, 5 hours. Total, 30 hours.

The Teachers' Course; Bachelor of Arts with Major in Education, or Two-Year Course without Degree.—A large percentage of the graduates and undergraduates of Maryville College become teachers. They are found in all sections of the United States, especially in the Southern Appalachian region, and in the South and Southwest, and are employed in elementary schools, high schools, and colleges.

The instructors in the various departments of the College endeavor to conduct their work in such a way as to help train teachers, both by the thoroughness of the instruction given in the various branches, and by the object lesson of the methods employed in the classroom. Competent teachers selected from many colleges and universities bring the best methods of those schools to their work at Maryville. The teachers trained at Maryville rank high in sound scholarship and practical pedagogy.

The Degree Course.—For the only course of preparation, fully qualifying for the first-class, five-year teaching certificate issued by the State Department of Public Instruction, the student must take the four years' Liberal Arts Course as outlined above, choosing Education as his major subject, and graduating from the College with the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The Non-degree Course.—The State Department of Public Instruction, however, also issues two kinds of certificates to undergraduates: (1) An elementary certificate to those that have completed approximately forty semester hours of college work, including eight hours in Education. This certificate permits the holder to teach in any elementary school in the State during a period of five years, at the end of which time the certificate may be made permament. (2) A professional high-school certificate to those that have completed two years of college work, including twelve hours in Education. This certificate permits the holder to teach in any high school in the State except a first-class high school, for a period of four years. This certificate may be made permanent under the same conditions as obtain for other professional certificates.

For the benefit of students who desire to qualify only for the elementary or second-grade certificates, a course may be arranged for the Freshman and Sophomore years as shown in the following synopsis. The entrance requirements are the same as for the degree course, and should include. whenever possible, one unit of pedagogy. In addition, the applicant must make formal declaration of his or her purpose to become a teacher. Upon the completion by the student of a sufficient number of courses, the Registrar will forward the student's application for a teacher's certificate to the State Department of Public Instruction.

Freshman Year: Bible 1 (3 hours, either semester); English 2 and 3 (6 hours); Ancient or Modern Language, 6 hours (if elementary, must be continued throughout the second year); Mathematics 2 (3 hours, either semester; or Mathematics 4 or 9. if Plane Trigonometry was offered for entrance); Natural Science. 6 hours; Education 3 and 5 (6 hours); Physical Training 1 and 2 (2 hours). Total, 32 hours.

Sophomore Year: Bible 23 or 5 (3 hours, either semester); English 1 (3 hours, either semester); History 4 and 5, or 9 and 10 (6 hours); Ancient or Modern Language, 6 hours; Natural Science, 6 hours; Education 2 and 4 (6 hours); and Physical Training 3 and 4 (2 hours). Total, 32 hours.

If, after completing the two years' work as outlined above, the student desires to continue his studies, he may be admitted to the Junior year of the Liberal Arts Course, in which he will take as required work the required subjects of the Freshman and Sophomore years omitted in the special course, the prescribed courses of the Junior year, and major requirements in Education.

The Smith-Hughes Course in Vocational Home Economics; Bachelor of Arts with Major in Home Economics, or Two-Year Course without Degree.—The liberality of an anonymous donor, who contributed the Mary Esther Memorial Endowment Fund, made it possible in 1913 for the College to add a Home Economics Department to the privileges already afforded its students, and also to house the department in large and well-lighted rooms equipped in the most recent and approved manner. In the sewing classes students provide their own materials as may be specified by the instructor. All articles made in the sewing classes are exhibited at the end of the semester, and at the close of the annual exhibit are returned to the student. Cotton dresses should be worn in the laboratories, and long white aprons with bibs are required.

The Degree Course.—For a course in vocational teacher training qualifying for teaching Home Economics in first-class high schools under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes Act, the full four years' course, as outlined below, must be taken. To attain the degree in this course a minimum of one hundred and thirty-six semester hours must be completed, and in addition, one hundred and thirty-two quality credits must be earned. Good students can complete the work within four years provided they take the courses in the order prescribed. Upon completing the course, the student will be graduated from the College with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and will be recommended to the State Department of Public Instruction for a first-class, five-year teaching certificate, authorizing the holder to teach Home Economics in any high school in the State.

The Non-degree Course.—For young women desiring a partial course, that will, however, meet the requirements of the State Department of Public Instruction for teaching the subject in many of the schools of the State, but who do not desire to complete the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a certificate of proficiency will be granted such students as, having previously met the requirements for admission to the Freshman Class, complete at least the first two years' work as outlined below. Such students, also, will be recommended to the State Department of Public Instruction for the granting of teaching certificates of whatever grade may be issued for the work done.

Young women taking the Liberal Arts Course and majoring in other departments, who may desire to know the application of Home Economics to the home, may take as elective work, the general courses in Home Economics for which they may have the prerequisites.

Freshman Year: Bible 1 (3 hours, second semester); English 2 and 3 (6 hours); Ancient or Modern Language, 6 hours (if elementary, must be continued throughout the second year); Chemistry 1 and 2 (6 hours); Home Economics 16, 17, 18, 20, and 21 (15 hours); and Physical Training 1 and 2 (2 hours). Total, 38 hours.

Sophomore Year: Bible 23, 5, or 6 (3 hours, either semester); English 1 (3 hours, either semester); History 4 and 5, or 9 and 10 (6 hours); Ancient or Modern Language, 6 hours (if elementary, must be continued throughout the second year); Chemistry 11 and 12 (6 hours); Psychology 1 and 12 (6 hours); Home Economics 19 and 26 (6 hours); and Physical Training 3 and 4 (2 hours). Total, 38 hours.

Junior Year: Bible, any advanced course (2 hours, first semester); Mathematics 2, 4, or 9 (3 hours, either semester); Ancient or Modern Language, 6 hours (if elementary, must be continued throughout the second year); Education 2, 3, 4, or 5 (3 hours, either semester); Biology 14 and 15 (6 hours); and Home Economics 22, 27, 31, and 32 (12 hours). Total, 32 hours.

Senior Year: Bible, any advanced course (2 hours, second semester; may be taken during the Junior year, if desired); Philosophy 3 and 4 (6 hours); Biology 16 (3 hours, first semester); Social Science 15 (3 hours, first semester), and 2 (2 hours, second semester); Home Economics 23, 24, 28, 29, and 30 (12 hours); Electives, 2 hours. Total 30 hours.

The Pre-Medical Course; Bachelor of Arts with Major in Chemistry or Biology, or Two-Year Course without Degree.—The Degree Course.—For the most satisfactory course of preparation, the student is recommended to take the full four years' Liberal Arts Course, majoring in Chemistry or Biology, and to graduate from the College with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He will then be able to meet the highest requirements for admission to any medical school.

The Non-degree Course.—For the benefit, however, of students preparing to study medicine but unable first to complete the full four years' college course leading to a degree, the College provides a special course covering those college studies specified as the minimum requirement for entrance to medical schools of Class A standard, as classified by the American Medical Association. On account of the fact that many medical schools now maintain entrance requirements higher than this minimum, the student should acquaint himself with the requirements of the medical school that he expects to enter. The requirements for admission to the Freshman Class in the two-year Pre-Medical Course are the same as for admission to the Freshman Class in the Liberal Arts Course.

The course of study may be completed in two years, during which time sixty-four semester hours of work, including the four hours of physical training, must be taken from courses listed in the following synopsis of courses meeting the requirements of the American Medical Association:

Freshman Year: Required—Chemistry 1 and 2 (6 hours); Biology 14 and 15 (6 hours); English 2 and 3 (6 hours); Bible 1 (3 hours); Mathematics 2 (3 hours; mathematics need not be taken if Plane Trigonometry was offered for entrance); French 1 and 2 or German 1 and 2 (6 hours); and Physical Training 1 and 2 (2 hours). Total, 32 hours.

Sophomore Year: Required—Chemistry 3 and 7 (6 hours); Biology 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11, 13, 16, or 17 (3 hours; or 2 hours if one unit of biology was presented for entrance); Physics 6, 7, 8, or 9 (9 hours; or 6 hours if one unit of physics was presented for entrance); Bible, 23 or 5 (3 hours); other non-science subjects, 6 hours; Physical Training 3 and 4 (2 hours). Elective—Any science or non-science courses open to Sophomores, 3 to 7 hours. Total, 32 hours.

A student completing the pre-medical course will be certified to the medical school that he may wish to enter.

REQUIRED AND PERMITTED HOURS

The normal schedule of studies for all students is fifteen recitation hours a week (in the Smith-Hughes course in Vocational Home Economics, eighteen hours), exclusive of the physical-training hours required of Freshmen and Sophomores. More than this amount is not permitted so long as the student is in the Freshman class. The Registrar may, at his discretion, restrict any student to a smaller number of hours, if his grades in high school or college, or in the Freshman intelligence tests indicate that such restriction is advisable.

The number of hours that may be carried during any semester subsequent to the Freshman year will depend upon the student's grades earned during the preceding semester. If the average grade falls below D, not over twelve hours may be carried; with averages of D or C, fifteen hours; with an average higher than C, eighteen hours; and with averages of B or higher, twenty hours.

No student shall receive more than forty semester hours' credit for one year's work, nor shall he be permitted to carry work that, if credited, would amount to more than an average of twenty hours a semester for the year. This includes credits earned in the department of expression, in debating, and in the editing of the HIGHLAND ECHO.

GRADES AND QUALITY CREDITS

Grades and quality credits are recorded as follows: A, unusual excellence, three quality credits for each semester hour of the course; B, honor rank, two quality credits; C, good, one quality credit; D, passing, and acceptable for graduation, but not entitling to quality credit; E, condition, which may be changed to D only upon reexamination at the close of the following semester, and which becomes F if the second examination is not then taken; F, failure, requiring that the course be taken again before credit can be allowed; I, incomplete, which will be changed to F if the work is not completed within one semester.

In the case of students from other institutions admitted to the Sophomore, Junior, or Senior class, a proportionate number of quality credits (not fewer than 30 such credits for each year at Maryville) shall be required for graduation.

Students who at the end of any semester have received grades of E, F, or I in a majority of their studies automatically forfeit their connection with the College, unless for satisfactory reasons they are reinstated by vote of the Faculty.

Three unexcused absences incurred in any course debar the student from receiving any grade higher than D in that course.

Absences for any cause, including both excused and unexcused absences and absences due to late registration, totaling 25% of the course in which the absences are incurred, debar the student from receiving any grade higher than D; or totaling 50%, debar from examination, in that course.

PROMOTION SCALE

The expectation in the case of an average student is that he shall complete at least thirty semester hours of quantity credits, exclusive of physical training requirements, together with an equal number of quality credits, during each college year. To allow for reasonable variations, however, promotion from one classification to the next higher classification is permitted upon the following minimum basis:

Freshman to Sophomore: the student shall have twenty-three quantity credits.

Sophomore to Junior: the student shall have fifty-five quantity credits, plus forty quality credits.

Junior to Senior: the student shall be within thirty-three quantity credits of completing his graduation requirements, and have ninety quality credits; except, that if he has only eighty quality credits, he may still be admitted to the graduating class, provided he is within thirty hours of completing his graduation requirements; or, if he has one hundred and twenty quality credits, he may be admitted with thirty-six hours to complete; or, if he has one hundred and sixty quality credits, he may be admitted with forty semester hours to complete.

GRADUATION HONORS

The distinction of MAGNA CUM LAUDE is conferred upon such members of the graduating class as shall have earned, during eight semesters (four years) of residence study in the College, at least 334 quality credits.

The distinction of CUM LAUDE is conferred upon such members of the graduating class as shall have earned at least 244 quality credits; except that a student entering for the first time after his Sophomore year, may, by a vote of the Faculty, have the honor of CUM LAUDE conferred upon him if he earns at least 170 quality credits.

In the Smith-Hughes Course in Vocational Home Economics, the number of quality credits specified above, must, in each instance, be increased by ten.

CERTIFICATES OF CREDIT

Graduates and undergraduates that have left college in good standing may, if they so desire, receive an official statement of their credits, upon application to the Registrar. No charge is made for the first certificate when issued in the form adopted by the College. For duplicates and for the filling out of special blanks, prepayment of one dollar is required in each case.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The College endeavors to help its graduates to secure positions as teachers and seeks to promote those that are now teaching. Any graduate of the College may register with the Committee on Recommendations, to whom all correspondence on this subject should be addressed. The Committee's recommendations are confidential and under no circumstances are they shown to the candidates. General letters of recommendation are not ordinarily given. Superintendents, principals, school officials, and others in need of teachers are invited to report vacancies, stating salary, character of work, and the like, and suitable teachers will be recommended, and their records forwarded for inspection. No charges are made to either party for the services of the Committee.

DEPARTMENTS OF INSTRUCTION

NOTE:. The courses in each department are numbered consecutively, beginning with 1. The omission of a number indicates that a course has been discontinued New courses receive new numbers and are inserted in the description of courses in the curriculum year to which they belong.

BIBLE AND RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

PROFESSOR GILLINGHAM AND ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS ORR AND KIGER

1. Life of Christ. The study of the life of Christ is based on a harmony of the Gospels. As an introduction to the course a rapid review of the period between the Testaments is taken, and the principal characteristics of each of the four Gospels are studied. Text-books, Stevens and Burton's Harmony of the Gospels and Burton and Mathews' The Life of Christ. Required of Freshmen; three hours, first semester; repeated second semester for those who take Mathematics 2 during first semester.

23. Genesis to Ruth. A survey of the patriarchal and tribal periods of Old Testament History, with special emphasis upon the teaching values of the narratives. The geography of Palestine, also, is studied. The object of the course is, in addition to the mastery of the subject matter, to develop systematic habits and methods of Bible study, and to furnish a sound basis for teacher training in the field of biblical instruction. The course is distinctively a training course. Text-books, the Bible (R.V.) and Davis' A Dictionary of the Bible. Identical with Education 14. Required of Sophomores who do not take Course 5; three hours, first semester; repeated second semester for those who take English 1 during first semester.

4, 24. Old Testament History. A continuation of Course 23, beginning with I Samuel. The national development, the conflicts of Judah and Israel, their governments, their subjugation and partial restoration, the character of their leaders, and their influence upon their contemporaries, are studied. The influences of surrounding nations upon the political and religious conditions of Israel are emphasized. Text-books, same as in Course 23. Elective for students who have completed Course 23; two hours, each semester.

5. The Teachings of Jesus. An analytic and synthetic study based on the words of Jesus as recorded in the Gospels. Use is also made of his works and of the evangelists' comments in helping to determine the nature of Jesus' teaching. James Robertson's Our Lord's Teaching is used also as a text-book. Required of Sophomores who do not take Course 23; three hours, second semester.

6. The Apostolic Church. A historical study of the early church based on the Acts and Epistles. Text-books, the New Testament (R. V.) and Gilbert's A Short History of Christianity in the Apostolic Age. Elective for students who have completed two Bible courses; three hours, first semester.

7, 27. A Bird's-eye View of the Bible. This course brings the entire Bible before the student in rapid review. The Old Testament is covered in the first semester, and the New Testament in the second semester. Text-books, Robertson's The Old Testament and Its Contents and McClymont's The New Testament and Its Writers. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, each semester.

8. Poets of Palestine. An outline study of Job, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Song of Solomon, and selected Psalms. Introductory lectures on Hebrew poetry and wisdom literature. Portions of the books are studied in detail and their relation to other sacred literature and their importance in Christian experience are emphasized. No commentaries are used as text-books, but required readings are assigned; and the professor furnishes a syllabus of each book. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, first semester. (Not offered in 1924-1925.)

9. Prophets of Palestine. A study of the rise and development of Old Testament prophecy. The prophets are studied chronologically in the light of contemporaneous history, and the contribution of each to the life and religion of his day is emphasized. Suitable commentaries are used, and a special study of some phase of prophecy, or of the work of some one prophet, is required of each student. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, second semester.

17. Bible Teaching: Principles and Practice. This course has reference especially to personal work and the conducting of Bible classes. The organization and management of the Sabbath school are studied. Lectures, quizzes, preparation of Bible lessons for teaching, and practice under the direction of the instructor. Identical with Education 17. Elective for students who have had two Bible courses; two hours, first semester.

18. Religious Address: Principles and Practice. Preparation for religious services, missionary programs, and the like; selection and development of themes; sources and use of illustrations; addresses on special occasions and to special audiences; and drill in the reading of hymns and passages of Scripture. As much practical work is done by the student as possible. Alternates with Course 17. Identical with Education 18. Elective for students who have had two Bible courses; two hours, second semester. (Not offered in 1924-1925.)

19. Religious Education: Principles and Practice. A discussion of the principles and problems of education in the field of religion. Observation and practice afforded in city and rural Sabbath schools. Identical with Education 19. Elective for students who have had two Bible courses; two hours, first semester.

20. History of Religious Education. Brief survey of religious education during the Christian era. Alternates with Course 19. Identical with Education 20. Elective for students who have had two Bible courses; two hours, second semester.

EDUCATION

DEAN BARNES, MISS GAMBLE, MISS HIGGINBOTHAM, AND OTHER TEACHERS AS LISTED

5. Problems in Secondary Education. The course includes a study of methods of teaching and observation of high-school teaching. The ideals of education and the problems that confront the secondary teacher are carefully studied. The curriculum, discipline, athletics, social organization, sex pedagogy, and the like, as applied to the high school, and kindred subjects are discussed. Text-book, Colvin's High-school Teaching, supplemented by Hall's Problems in Education, lectures, and reports by the students. Elective for Sophomores; three hours, first semester.—MISS GAMBLE.

3. History of Education. A study of the educational systems of early China, Greece, and Rome; the history of Christian education; the rise of the universities; the Renaissance; and the educators of the sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, and nineteenth centuries. A careful study is made of such modern educators as Rosseau, Pestalozzi, Froebel, Herbart, and Horace Mann. 10, 11. Coaching and the Teaching of Athletics. For men of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes. Those wishing to take the course will be given such examination as may be necessary to determine their fitness for undertaking the work. Prerequisite, Freshman physical training requirement. First semester, football and basketball; second semester, baseball and track. Lectures and practical work, three times a week; three hours credit each semester.—ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR HONAKER.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE

PROFESSOR HUNTER, MISS HERON, MISS CLEMENS, AND MISS DEHAVEN

2, 3. Rhetoric. A preliminary study is made of the fundamentals of usage. This is followed by a study of the principles of style and a study of the forms of prose discourse. Frequent written exercises are called for in connection with the principles as they arise. A handbook of specimens of prose is studied during the latter part of the course. Text-books, Genung's Practical Elements of Rhetoric, MacCracken and Sandison's A Manual of Good English, and Nutter, Hersey, and Greenough's Specimens of Prose Composition. Required of Freshmen; three hours, each semester.

1. Systematic Discourse. The method and preparation of outlines is the basis of this course. The student is instructed in the method of ordering the material of discourse. Each student prepares and presents fifteen outlines during the course. Attention is also given to the development of the outline. Each student develops at least four of his outlines and delivers the completed discourses before the class. In this conection much stress is laid on the fundamentals of effective delivery. No text-book. Required of Sophomores; three hours, first semester; repeated second semester fot those who take Bible during first semester.

12. Public Speaking. The aim of this course is to develop the student in the reading of English prose and poetry intelligently and effectively at sight. Constant drill is afforded by the text-book exercises, and special assignments are given in the English classics. Text-book, Clark's The Interpretation of the Printed Page. Elective for Sophomores; two hours, first semester.

13. Public Speaking. In this course the emphasis is placed on the material and style of public speech. Careful study is made of the elements of interest and the general ends of effective speech. Frequent drill in the various types of speech is called for. Each student is required to prepare and present at least one extensive speech, such as an oration, during the course. Text-book, Phillips' Effective Speaking. Prerequisite, English 1. Elective for Sophomores; two hours, second semester.

15. Intercollegiate Debate. Credit to the amount of two semester hours is given for satisfactory work as a member of an intercollegiate debating team as a principal, and one hour as an alternate. Not more than eight semester hours of credit, however, may be earned in this way. Preliminary contests are held annually before the Christmas holidays in which the members of the teams are chosen. Such members of these teams as do work that is deemed acceptable by the instructor in charge of the work are recommended to the Faculty for credit.

10. Advanced Composition: Narration. The principles of narrative writing are studied, with particular attention to the short story. Alternates with English 20. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.

18, 19. An Introduction to the Study of the English Language. A study is made of the history and relationships of the English language and studies are conducted dealing with the processes of growth and change which are characteristic of the language. Text-books, Trench's A Study of Words, and Greenough and Kittredge's Words and Their Ways in English Speech. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester. (Not offered in 1924-1925.)

20. Advanced Composition: Exposition. The various forms of the essay are considered and some attention is given to the special article. Text-book, Curl's Expository Writing. Alternates with English 10. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.

21. The teaching of English in the Secondary School. Consideration is given to the problems connected with high-school English teaching. Various theories of English teaching are studied and numerous high-school text-books are examined with a view to arriving at some conclusion as to the best practice in the teaching of composition and the classics in the high school. Text-book, Thomas' The Teaching of English in the Secondary School. Identical with Education 21. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, first semester.

ENGLISH LITERATURE

MRS. ALEXANDER

5, 6. English Literature. A survey of the entire field of English Literature from its beginning to the death of Victoria. The development of the literature from period to period is carefully noted, and the lives, works, and characteristics of the more prominent authors are studied and criticised. Text-book, Newcomer's Twenty Centuries of Prose and Poetry. Elective for Sophomores; three hours, each semester.

4. American Literature. Two weeks are devoted to Colonial Literature. The rest of the time is given to a careful study of the works of the leading American poets and prose writers of the nineteenth century. Text-book, Page's Chief American Poets, supplemented by library work. Elective for Sophomores; two hours, first semester.

16. American Literature since 1870. Text-books, Pattee's History of American Literature since 1870, and Readings in American Literature since 1870. Elective for Sophomores; two hours, second semester.

Prerequisites, Home Economics 18, and Chemistry 2. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Sophomores; three hours credit, first semester.—Mrs. McMurray.

26. Demonstration Cookery. A training course for County Agents and others expecting to do public-service work. A review of all preceding work given by pupils in demonstration before the class and friends. Prerequisite, Home Economics 19. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Sophomores: three hours credit, second semester.—Mrs. McMurray.

27. Tailoring. Tailored seams, pockets, and collars; steaming and pressing; making a tailored suit, or coat and skirt. Prerequisite, Home Economics 20. Laboratory practice, six hours a week. Juniors; three hours credit, first semester.—Mr. Lewis.

22. Hygiene. Personal hygiene; public health; first aid; care of the sick; prevention of disease; care of the child. Lectures and quizzes. Juniors; three hours credit, first semester.—Mrs. McMurray.

31. Applied Design. Fundamental principles of costume design; art structure in relation to dress, study of spacing, rhythm, balance, color, and designing for various occasions. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Juniors; three hours credit, second semester.—Miss Knott.

32. Methods of Teaching Home Economics. Study of the home economics curriculum; reviews of standard text-books; planning of lessons and home projects. Juniors; three hours, second semester.—Mrs. McMurray.

25. Millinery. Making and covering wire and buckram frames; braid hats; draped hats; ribbon trimmings; flowers and ornaments. Prerequisite, Home Economics 16, or equivalent. Laboratory practice, four hours a week. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours credit, second semester. —Miss Hansen.

28. Household Management. Care of the house from attic to cellar; refinishing furniture and floors; choice of equipment; daily routine; business of the household; budget. Seniors; three hours, first semester.—Mrs. McMurray.

23. Teachers' Training Course. Practice teaching in foods and cookery. Prerequisite, Home Economics 19. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Seniors; three hours credit, first semester.—Mrs. McMurray.

24. Teachers' Training Course. Practice teaching in sewing. Prerequisite, Home Economics 20. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Seniors; three hours credit, second semester.—Mrs. McMurray.

29. The Home. Study of the house, its location and construction; the family; responsibilities of the various members to one another and to the home. Students taking this course also take Course 30; one-half of the semester being devoted to each course, and credit being given only upon the completion of both courses. Seniors; one and one-half hours, second semester.—Mrs. McMurray.

30. Practice House. The laboratory work of Course 28, together with the application of all the Home Economics courses previously given. While taking this course, the students live in the practice house for nine weeks. Students taking this course also take Course 29; one-half of the semester being devoted to each course, and credit being given only upon the completion of both courses. Prerequisites, Home Economics 26 and 28. Seniors; one and one-half hours, second semester.—Miss Knott.

LANGUAGES, ANCIENT

Professor Davis

GREEK

1, 2. Beginning Greek The work of the year purposes to secure a mastery of the principal inflections, a careful study of the principles of syntax, and facility in reading and writing easy sentences in Greek. Freshmen; three hours, each semester.

3. Xenophon's Anabasis. Book i, with selections from the later books. The place of the Ten Thousand in Greek history. Continued drill in inflections and syntax. Sophomores; three hours, first semester.

12. Homer's Iliad, Books i-iii, omitting the Catalog of Ships. Mythology and geography are studied as required for the full understanding of the text. Special attention is paid to the dialect and to the scansion. Sight reading. Sophomores; three hours, second semester.

4. Herodotus. Selections from Books vi and vii of Herodotus dealing with the Persian Wars. The history of the period and the dialect of Herodotus are studied. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, first semester.

11. Greek Testament. Studies in the Gospels and in the Acts. Westcott and Hort's text is used. Attention is paid to the general characteristics of Hellenistic Greek, and to the New Testament manuscripts and versions. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.

6. Plato. The Apology and the Crito, with selections from the Phædo. Lectures and assigned readings on the beginnings and the influence of Greek philosophy. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, first semester.

7. Tragedy. Æschylus' Seven Against Thebes, or Sophocles' Antigone, with one play from Euripides, either Alcestis or Iphigenia in Tauris. The Greek theater, and its influence in Athenian life. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.

8. Comedy. The Frogs of Aristophanes. The development of comedy, and its place in Greek literature and Greek life. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.

Of the courses listed for Juniors and Seniors, the one best suited to the needs of those electing advanced Greek will be given in each semester.

LATIN

Students majoring in Latin with a view to teaching are advised to acquire some knowledge of Greek; they are reminded, also, that French and German will be needed by students who do graduate work in the Classics.

15, 16. Cicero and Vergil. Provided for students who enter college with only two or three years' work in Latin. Does not repeat the reading of third-year high-school Latin. Runs throughout the year and should not be divided. A considerable part of the first semester is spent in the study of Cicero; the rest of the year is given to Vergil's Æneid. Much attention is given to study of forms and syntax. Freshmen; three hours, each semester.

1. Livy. Book xxi and selections from Book xxii. Thorough study of the historical setting of Livy's narrative. Special emphasis upon the syntax. Sight reading. Freshmen; three hours, first semester.

2. Cicero. De Senectute and De Amicitia. Careful study of De Senectute, followed by a rapid reading of De Amicitia. Special attention to the author's thought and style, and to practice in translation. Sight reading. Freshmen; three hours, second semester.

13. Catullus and Ovid. The main work of the term consists in a study of the poet Catullus. His principal poems are read with special attention to the content, style, and meter. The work in Catullus is followed by rapid reading in Ovid. As much ground as possible is covered at sight, in addition to the passages assigned. May be given instead of Course 2, if desired.

3. Cicero and Pliny. Selections from the letters of Cicero and Pliny. The letters read are such as illustrate the life, customs, and political history of the times, and the characters of the writers. Sight reading. Prerequisite, Course 1, 2, or 13. Sophomores; three hours, first semester.

4. Horace. Odes and Epodes. Courses 4 and 5 present a general view of the works of the poet Horace, which are studied from a literary point of view. Special attention to the metrical structure, and thorough drill in scansion. Prerequisites, two of the Courses 1, 2, 3, 13. Sophomores; three hours, second semester.

5. Horace and Juvenal. Selections from the Satires and Epistles of Horace, and from the Satires of Juvenal. Origin and development of Roman satire. A continuation of Course 4. Prerequisite, Latin 4. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, first semester.

9. Tacitus and Seneca. Tacitus' Agricola and Seneca's De Vita Beata. The historical setting, structure, and purpose of the Agricola; the characteristics of Silver Latin as illustrated in the style of Tacitus and Seneca. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.

10. Teachers' Course. Intended to assist those who expect to teach high-school Latin. Systematic study of the principles of the language; the most effective methods of teaching First Latin, Cæsar, Cicero, and Vergil; lectures, discussions, papers, and collateral reading. Identical with Education 7. Elective for Juniors and Seniors who have had other college work in Latin; three hours, first semester.

14. Plautus and Terence. Selected plays are read. The place of comedy in Latin literature is considered, as is also its relation to Greek comedy. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.

Of the courses listed for Juniors and Seniors, the one best suited to the needs of those electing advanced Latin will be given in each semester.

LANGUAGES, MODERN

PROFESSOR HUSSEY, MRS. MINTON, MISS WILKINSON, MR. THROWER, AND MISS CRESWELL

FRENCH

1, 2. College Beginning French. The courses consist in a thorough study of the essential features of French grammar, careful practice in pronunciation, composition, conversation, writing of French from dictation. Text-books, Fraser and Squair's Grammar, Talbot's Le Français et Sa Patrie, Daudet's Le Petit Chose, or their equivalent. Freshmen; three hours, each semester.

4, 5. College Second-year French. Review of grammar, syntax, themes, conversation, memorizing of poems, reading of standard and contemporary authors. Text-books, Loti's Pêcheur d'Islande, France's Le Livre de Mon Ami, and Hugo's Notre Dame, or their equivalent. Sophomores; three hours, each semester.

7, 8. Advanced French. Advanced prose composition, review of grammar, and general consideration of methods of teaching modern languages.

Rapid reading of modern French stories and plays in class and by individuals. Discussion of the tendencies of modern French literature. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester.

9, 10. Classical Drama and Old French. Review of French literature from its beginning, brief selections from Old French, and chief masterpieces of the Classical Drama. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester.

11, 12. Scientific French. Study of one or more French scientific readers. Some time is also given to commercial and journalistic French. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester. (Not offered in 1924-1925.)

Of the courses listed for Juniors and Seniors, the course best suited to the needs of those electing advanced French will be given each year.

GERMAN

1, 2. College Beginning German. Grammar, easy prose translation, and simple conversation. Text-books, Joynes and Meissner's Grammar and such texts as Bacon's Das Vaterland, Von Hillern's Höher als die Kirche, and Wells' Drei kleine Lustspiele. Freshmen; three hours, each semester.

4, 5. College Second-year German. Review of grammar, prose composition, and reading from modern authors. Sophomores; three hours each semester.

7, 8. Advanced German. Rapid reading of representative works written during the last century, and study of German literary tendencies during the same period. Advanced prose composition. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester.

9, 10. Goethe and Schiller. Study of several of the chief works of these authors, collateral reading of their dramas, and brief review of German literature from the Reformation to the present time. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester. (Not offered in 1924-1925.)

11, 12. Scientific German. Selections descriptive of various sciences are read, and part of the time is given to the German of industry and commerce. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester. (Not offered in 1924-1925.)

Of the courses listed for Juniors and Seniors, the course best suited to the needs of those electing advanced German will be given each year.

SPANISH

1, 2. College Beginning Spanish. Grammar, composition, conversation. Text-books, De Vitis' Brief Spanish Grammar, Fuentes and François' Trip to Latin America, A Commercial Reader, and Alarcón's El Capitán Veneño. Freshmen; three hours, each semester.

4, 5. College Second-year Spanish. Review of grammar, prose composition, themes, practice in commercial correspondence, reading of modern plays and of newspapers. Text-books, Olmsted and Gordon's Abridged Spanish Grammar. Alarcón's Novelas Cortas, and Galdos' Marianela. Sophomores; three hours, each semester.

7, 8. Advarced Spanish. Modern literature course, with a view to preparing teachers of Spanish. Rapid reading of such books as Altamirano's Navidad en las Montañas, Palacio Valdez' José, and plays by Jacinto Benavente. Prose composition and notebook work. Some study given to journalism. Electice for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester. (Not offered in 1924-1925.)

9, 10. Classical Spanish. A detailed study of Cervantes' Don Quijote, Juan Manuel's Conde Lucanor, and some plays of Calderon or Lope de Vega. Spanish literature studied through its periods of development. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester.

Of the courses listed for Juniors and Seniors, the course best suited to the needs of those electing advanced Spanish will be given each year.

MATHEMATICS

Professor Knapp and Acting Professor Walker

1. Solid Geometry. Offered as an elective, in order that students entering without solid geometry may be able to major in mathematics. Freshmen; two hours, first semester.

2. Plane Trigonometry. Students that present Plane Trigonometry for entrance take Course 4 or 9. Required of Freshmen; three hours, first semester; repeated second semester for those who take Bible during first semester.

4. Plane Analytic Geometry. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2. Either this course or Course 9 required of students that present Plane Trigonometry for entrance. Elective for Sophomores; three hours, second semester.

10. Plane Surveying. Use and adjustments of instruments; methods employed in practical surveying; chaining, triangulation, leveling; calculating areas and earth work, establishing grades, dividing land; railway location, laying out curves; mapping, and topographical work. Special attention is given to field-work. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2. Elective for Sophomores; three hours, second semester.

8, 28. College Algebra. Logarithms; series; permutations, combinations, and probability; determinants and the theory of equations. Elective for Sophomores; two hours, each semester.

6, 7. Differential and Integral Calculus. Differentiation of algebraic and transcendental functions, with elementary applications of the calculus, especially in maxima and minima, and in the expansion of functions, the general treatment of curve tracing, asymptotes, inflection, curvature, and singular points; radius of curvature and envelopes. Direct integration of elementary forms, including integration by decomposition of fractions; integration by substitution, by parts, and by the aid of reduction formulæ. Applications particularly in the rectification, quadrature, and cubature of curves. Prerequisite, Mathematics 4. Elective for Sophomores; three hours, each semester.

9, 29. Astronomy. A general survey; definitions; description and use of instruments; the heavenly bodies; stellar and planetary evolution. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2. Either Course 9 or Course 4 is required of students that present Plane Trigonometry for entrance. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, first semester; two hours, second semester.

11. Spherical Trigonometry. The development and transformation of formulæ; solution of spherical triangles with application in geodesy, navigation, and astronomy. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, second semester.

12. Differential Equations. Equations of the first and second orders; linear equations; solutions of equations by series; miscellaneous applications. Prerequisites, Mathematics 6 and 7. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, first semester.

13. The History of Mathematics. Mathematical knowledge and methods of primitive races; Egyptians; the Greek schools; the Middle Ages and the Renaissance; mathematics of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries; recent times; résumé by topics with a study of the methods of teaching elementary mathematics. Identical with Education 9. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, second semester.

14. Solid Analytic Geometry. Systems of coordinates in solid analytic geometry; loci; lines, planes, surfaces; general equations of the second degree; ruled surfaces. Prerequisite, Mathematics 4. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, first semester.

15. Theory of Equations. General properties and transformations of equations; reciprocal and binomial equations; algebraic and trigonometric solutions of cubic equations; algebraic solutions of the quartic equation; symmetric functions of roots; separation of roots; solution of numerical equations; complex numbers; determinants; discriminants. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, first semester.

16. Mechanics. A course combining analytical and graphical methods, and intended particularly for students preparing for engineering. Prerequisites, Mathematics 6 and 7, and Physics 6 and 7. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.

NATURAL SCIENCES

BIOLOGY

MISS GREEN, MR. BOND, AND LABORATORY ASSISTANTS

14, 15. General Biology. The object of this course is to give the student a clear conception of the fundamental principles governing living matter, particularly with relation to man. Lectures, recitations, demonstrations, and laboratory work help the student acquire the scientific method of gathering related data from every source and of bringing it to bear upon the problem studied. Prerequisite to all other courses in Biology. Text-books, Woodruff's Foundations of Biology and Baitsell's Manual. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Freshmen; three hours credit each semester.

1. Invertebrate Zoology. Recitations, dissection of typical forms, and field-work. Text-book, Hegner's Zoology, with Pratt's Laboratory Manual. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; recitation, one hour. Elective for Sophomores; three hours credit, first semester.

2. Vertebrate Zoology. Recitations, dissection of typical forms, and field-work. Text-book, Hegner's Zoology, with Pratt's Laboratory Manual. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; recitation, one hour. Elective for Sophomores; three hours credit, second semester.

3. Botany. Life History of Plants from Seed to Flower. Emphasis is laid upon the chief problems involved in the physiology, ecology, and morphology of the seed, the developing plant, and the flower. Text-book, Densmore's General Botany. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; recitation, one hour. Elective for Sophomores; three hours credit, first semester.

4. Botany. Plant Morphology. A rapid morphological survey of the four great plant groups. Text-book, Densmore's General Botany. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; recitation, one hour. Elective for Sophomores; three hours credit, second semester.

5. Botany. Plant Physiology. A study of the most evident life relations of plants, embracing the fundamental principles of plant physiology. The work is not confined to any one text-book, but references are given out to various standard text-books on plant physiology. Prerequisite, Biology 3 and 4. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; recitation, one hour. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, second semester.

9. Physiology of the Circulatory and Respiratory Systems. Especially valuable to students intending to study medicine. Text-book, Kimber and Gray's Anatomy and Physiology, supplemented by reference work and lectures. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture or quiz, one hour. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, first semester.

10. Physiology of the Digestive and Muscular Systems. Especially valuable to students of Home Economics, and to students preparing for a medical course. Prerequisites, Chemistry 1 and 2. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture or quiz, one hour. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, second semester.

11. Physiology of the Brain, Cord, Eye, and Ear. Sense of taste, smell, pressure, temperature, and sight are studied. Especially valuable as a preliminary to psychology courses and medical courses. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, first semester.

12. Vertebrate Embryology. Birds and Mammals. Especially valuable to students preparing for the study of medicine. Prerequisite, Biology 2. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, first semester.

13. Human Physiology and Hygiene. A lecture and reading course. No laboratory work. Text-book, Stile's Human Physiology. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, first semester.

16. General Bacteriology. The fundamental facts of bacteriology; special technic for studying bacteria; preparing culture media; growing and staining bacteria; studying pure and mixed cultures; examining water and milk. A basic course for special study in industrial sciences, home economics, medicine, and general scientific studies. Text-book, Buchanan's Bacteriology. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, first semester.

17. Pathogenic Bacteriology. The morphology and biology of bacteria in general, and in connection with infection, immunity, and the specific infectious diseases; making bacteriologic media; studying the more important groups of non-pathogenic and pathogenic bacteria; examining water, sewage, milk, pus, saliva; isolating and identifying bacteria in mixtures. Prerequisite, Biology 16. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, second semester.

CHEMISTRY

PROFESSOR W. L. HYDEN, MR. RADCLIFFE, MR. HERNDON, AND LABORATORY ASSISTANTS

The courses as outlined are planned to meet the demand of those desiring to become teachers of chemistry; of those preparing to enter medical or dental colleges; of those desiring to pursue graduate studies in chemistry; and of those looking toward a career in industrial chemistry.

1, 2. General Chemistry. Principles of theoretical chemistry and the more important metallic and non-metallic elements, together with a study of processes and methods of chemical industry. Text-book, Holmes' General Chemistry; Laboratory Manual, Kendall's Laboratory Outline of Smith's College Chemistry. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Freshmen; three hours credit, each semester.—Mr. Radcliffe, Mr. Herndon, and Laboratory Assistants.

3. Qualitative Analysis. A study of the properties, reactions, and metallurgy of the metallic elements and the systematic separation and identification of these elements in unknown combinations. Text-book, Stieglitz's Qualitative Analysis. Prerequisites, Chemistry 1 and 2. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture or quiz, one hour. Sophomores; three hours credit, first semester.—Mr. Herndon and Assistant.

13. Advanced Qualitative Analysis. Principles and theory of analysis. Systematic separation and identification of the basic and acidic radicals, together with analysis of alloys, ores, and commercial products. Continuation of Course 3. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture or quiz, one hour. Sophomores; three hours credit, second semester.

11. Household Chemistry. A study of chemistry as applied to the household and community dealing with the chemistry of fuels, fire prevention, water, waste disposal, cleaning, polishing, stain removal, and textiles. Text-book, Beery's Chemistry Applied to Home and Community. Prerequisites, Chemistry 1 and 2. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture or quiz, one hour. Required of Sophomores in the Smith-Hughes Course; otherwise, elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, first semester.—Mr. Herndon and Assistant.

12. Household Chemistry. Continuation of Course 11, dealing with the chemistry of dyes, cellulose, paints and varnishes, ceramics, toilet preparations, foods, and drugs. Prerequisite, Chemistry 11. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture or quiz, one hour. Required of Sophomores in the Smith-Hughes Course; otherwise, elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, second semester.

5. Quantitative Analysis. Principles and technique of gravimetric analysis, designed to give instruction in representatve analysis and the use of standard apparatus. Text-book, Talbot's Quantative Chemical Analysis. Prerequisites, Chemistry 1, 2, and 3. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture, one hour. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, first semester.—Mr. Radcliffe.

6. Quantitative Analysis. A continuation of Course 5, dealing with volumetric analysis, stressing industrial methods and procedure in analytic work. Prerequisite, Chemistry 5. Laboratory practice, six hours a week. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, second semester.

7. Organic Chemistry. The aliphatic compounds, their preparation, properties, and uses. Text-books, Remsen's Organic Chemistry, and Jones' Laboratory Outline of Organic Chemistry. Prerequisite, Chemistry 1, 2, and 3. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture or quiz, one hour. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, first semester.—Mr. Herndon and Assistant.

8. Organic Chemistry. Continuation of Course 7. The aromatic compounds, their preparation, properties, and uses. Prerequisite, Chemistry 7. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; lecture or quiz, one hour Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, second semester.

14. Industrial Chemistry. A text-book course covering briefly the organic and inorganic industries, such as coal tar, oils, soap, fermentation products, explosives, fuels, acids, fertilizers, cement, glass, pigments, and dyes. Text-book, Thorp's Outlines of Industrial Chemistry. Prerequisites, Chemistry 1, 2, 3, and 7. Recitations and informal lectures. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, second semester. — Mr. Herndon.

15. Physical Chemistry. An elementary course in theoretical chemistry, covering such topics as the gas law, atomic and molecular theories, kinetic theory of gases, solutions, and the phase rule. Text-book, Lincoln's Physical Chemistry. Prerequisites, Chemistry, 1, 2, 3, 7, and 8, and advanced mathematics and physics; or by permission of the instructor. Lectures, three hours a week. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, first semester.—Mr. Radcliffe.

16. Physical Chemistry. Continuation of Course 15, taking up topics such as osmotic pressure, thermo-dynamics, electro, thermo, and colloidal chemistry. Prerequisite, Chemistry 15. Laboratory practice, two hours a week; lecture, two hours. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours credit, second semester.

PHYSICS

Acting Professor Walker, Professor Knapp, and Laboratory Assistant

6. Mechanics. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; recitation, one hour. Sophomores; three hours credit, first semester.

7. Sound and Heat. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; recitation, one hour. Sophomores; three hours credit, second semester.

8. Light. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; recitation, one hour. Juniors; three hours credit, first semester.

9. Magnetism and Electricity. Prerequisite, Mathematics 2. Laboratory practice, four hours a week; recitation, one hour. Juniors; three hours credit, second semester.

PHILOSOPHY

DEAN BARNES AND PROFESSORS GILLINGHAM AND HUNTER

2. Logic. A study of the principles of deductive and inductive reasoning, and drill in the detection of fallacies. Text-books, Hill's Jevon's Logic and Sellar's The Essentials of Logic. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, first semester.—PROFESSOR HUNTER. (Not offered in 1924-1925.)

3. The Grounds of Theistic and Christian Belief. The principal theistic and anti-theistic arguments, and the main historical and philosophical arguments for belief in the Christian religion. Lectures and written quizzes. Text-books, Mullin's Why is Christianity True? and Fisher's Evidences of Theistic and Christian Belief. Required of Seniors; three hours, first semester.—PROFESSOR GILLINGHAM.

4. Ethics. The leading conceptions of moral theory are approached by the historical method. The student is led to see that moral problems are real problems, which are solved best by reflective thought that is guided by Christian ideals. The various types of ethical theory are discussed. Special emphasis is placed upon the ethics of social organizations: the state, the economic life, and the family. Lectures and written quizzes. Text-book, Drake's Problems of Conduct, supplemented by Dewey and Tufts' Ethics, and the works of Sidgwick, Green, Martineau, and Spencer. Required of Seniors; three hours, second semester.—DEAN BARNES.

POLITICAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCE

PROFESSOR MCMURRAY

10, 11. American Government. A course in American citizenship. The form and workings of local, state, and national government in the United States; organization and functions of political parties; questions of American foreign policy; current political questions. The latter part of the second semester is devoted to a practical study of Parliamentary Law. Text-books, Munro's The Government of the United States, supplemented by readings in Bryce, Wilson, and other standard works, and Hall and Sturgis' Parliamentary Law. Elective for Sophomores; three hours, each semester.

6. Comparative Government. A comparative study of the governmental organization of the principal countries of the world so as to enable students better to understand the fundamental problems of democracy and to develop that broad and sympathetic view of world conditions that should characterize American citizens. The essential features of the governments of the United States, France, England and her colonies, Germany, Switzerland, Austria-Hungary, and other countries, are carefully studied. Text-book, Ogg and Beard's National Governments and the World War.

Elective for those who have had, or who are taking, Social Science 10; three hours, first semester.

5. Political Parties and Practical Politics. An introductory and analytical study of the American Party System designed especially to fit young men and young women for more intelligent citizenship. The main subjects considered are: present-day national parties, party platforms, nominating methods, campaigns and elections, and the party in power—the last named subject comprising a study of the spoils system, civil service reform, machines and bosses, practical politics in legislative bodies, and remedies for legislative evils. Text-book, Ray's Introduction to Political Parties and Practical Politics. Elective for those who have had Social Science 10; three hours, second semester.

1, 2. Principles of Sociology. The course deals with such subjects as the following: population; evolution of social institutions; analysis of society, social maladjustment, and social progress. Emphasis is placed on the practical phases of the subject. Text-book, Dow's Introduction to the Principles of Sociology. Reference reading and reports, together with assigned problems for original investigation. Elective for Sophomores; two hours, each semester.

17. Social Psychology. Identical with Psychology 6.—Miss Gamble.

12. City Problems. A study of the city, with special reference to the history of municipal development, the present organization of municipal government, the problems involved, and the best methods of solving these problems. Text-book, Goodnow and Bates' Municipal Government. Volumes I and II of Munro's Municipal Government and Administration are covered by class reports. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, first semester.

13. Rural Problems. Designed to show the scope of rural sociology, to compare the advantages of country and city, to consider such improvements as are conducive to rural community welfare. Text-book, Gillette's Rural Sociology, with supplementary readings from other standard works. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; two hours, second semester.

15, 16. Economic Principles. The organization of production, value and exchange, money, banking, international trade, distribution of wealth, labor problems, problems of economic organization, and taxation are the chief questions considered. Much attention is given to practical problems and exercises illustrative of various economic principles. Text-books, Ely's Outlines of Economics and Clay's Economics for the General Reader. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, each semester.

PSYCHOLOGY

DEAN BARNES, MISS GAMBLE, MISS HIGGINBOTHAM, AND LABORATORY ASSISTANTS.

17. Elementary Educational Psychology. Primarily for students of Education that have had no previous training in Psychology. Is not a substitute for the required Psychology 1 and 12. The whole field of psychology is briefly studied. Emphasis is placed upon instinctive activity, habit, laws of learning, intelligence, and how to study. Identical with Education 22. Elective for Sophomores; three hours, first semester.—MISS GAMBLE.

1. Elementary Psychology. Introductory course. Special emphasis on the study of the psycho-physical organism. The brain, eye, and ear are studied by the use of the Auzoux Models. Sensation, habit, instinct, attention, and preception are studied. Text-books, Pillsbury's Fundamentals of Psychology, and Woodworth's Psychology, with lectures and library assignments. Identical with Education 1. Required of Juniors; three hours, first semester.—MISS HIGGINBOTHAM.

12. Elementary Psychology. Continuation of Course 1. Review of topics already studied. Careful study of memory, imagination, reasoning, emotions, and volition. A comparative study of the structural, functional, and behavioristic points of view. Text-books, same as in Course 1. Identical with Education 12. Required of Juniors; three hours, second semester.—MISS HIGGINBOTHAM.

2. Psychology Applied to Education. The discussion of psychological problems which have reference to education; theory of recapitulation, correlations between mind and body, instinct, memory, imagination, apperception, interest, work, fatigue, motor control, and volition. Text-book, Bolton's Principles of Education, supplemented by lectures. Identical with Education 2. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, first semester.—MISS GAMBLE and MISS HIGGINBOTHAM.

3. Child Psychology. Problems, methods, and data in the psychological growth of children and youth. The course is developed with special reference to the dynamic conception of the mind, and mental growth as a function of a sensori-motor coordination. From this point of view, attention, perception, apperception, interest, habit, and will are discussed. The course is designed to show the application of psychological laws and principles to educational theory and practice. Identical with Education 4. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, first semester.—DEAN BARNES.

5. Advanced Educational Psychology. Psychology applied to teaching and management in the high school and upper grammar grades: a study of the group consciousness and social instincts of adolescents, competition, rivalry, sex differences, social organization, the native equipment of human beings, and the psychology of learning, with special reference to the meaning of these facts in their application in the organization of the school. Identical with Education 8. Prerequisites, Psychology 1, 12, 2, and 3. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.—DEAN BARNES.

6. Social Psychology Applied to Education. A study of group consciousness and social origins. Relation of the psychic life of the group to the group activities. Instruction and discipline of children by the parents and by the group. Comparison of the mental traits of different races and social classes. Psychology of the crowd, the mores, and folkways. Identical with Education 26. Elective for Juniors and Seniors; three hours, second semester.—MISS GAMBLE.

7. Experimental Psychology. The course consists of experiments in acoustics, haptics, optics, reactions, taste, and smell. Text-book, Langfelts and Allport's Laboratory Course in Psychology, supplemented by the works of Külpe, Sanford, Titchener, Judd, and Myer. Elective for Juniors and Seniors who are majoring in Psychology; three hours, first semester.—DEAN BARNES and LABORATORY ASSISTANTS.

DEPARTMENTS OF SPECIAL INSTRUCTION

MUSIC

It is the purpose of these courses to lay a firm technical foundation that will lead to the expression of the highest musical thought and emotion. The works of the best masters are employed through all grades, so that the pupil may grow continually in musical taste and may develop a sympathetic comprehension of all that enters into artistic performance. The study of Harmony, Theory, and History of Music is urged. Pupils are required to read and pass examinations upon reference works, provided in the Library, as assigned by the teachers. Lectures are given during the year by the head of the department on the subject of Musical Appreciation. Compositions are played and analyzed, and an effort is made to point out their underlying thought and meaning. These lectures are open to the general public as well as to students of the College. Recitals also are given by the students of the department in the chapel auditorium.

On account of the individual needs of the pupil, it is considered inadvisable to adhere too persistently to any special set of exercises and studies, but advisable, rather, to select those that will meet the particular requirements of each pupil. A general idea of the various courses may be had from the following outlines.

Piano

MISS HALE, MISS CRAWFORD, AND MISS TEDFORD

ELEMENTARY COURSE. Building up the hand. Correcting improper or faulty hand positions, and the reinforcing of the hand by means of exercises. Training in a knowledge of notes, their relationship to the keyboard, rhythm, and the like. Studies and sonatas selected from the works of Czerny, Bertini, Clementi, Handel, Mozart, and Beethoven, supplemented by easy pieces from modern composers, such as Schumann, Schytté, Reinecke, and Scharwenka.

INTERMEDIATE COURSE. More difficult forms of scale, including major and minor scales, scales in thirds, sixths, and tenths; broken chords and arpeggios with their inversions; dominant and diminished seventh chords in their different positions. Studies of considerable technical difficulty from the works of Czerny, Berens, and Cramer. Emphasis on the study of Bach's two-part and three-part Inventions. Classical compositions, including sonatas, from the works of Beethoven, Mozart, and Haydn. Study of the best modern compositions. By the end of the Intermediate Course pupils must be able to play at least five compositions from memory.

ADVANCED COURSE. Studies of technical difficulty, including "Gradus ad Parnassum," Clementi, Mocheles, and Chopin; also compositions by Beethoven, Schumann, Mendelssohn, and others, supplemented by those of the best modern composers. Pupils in this course are required to appear several times in recital, playing from memory whatever compositions are selected. It is also necessary to cover the requirements in Harmony and History of Music, and in Normal Training. When the pupil has done the work of this course successfully, he is entitled to a diploma in Piano, and upon graduation will be assisted in securing a position by the college agency, the Committee on Recommendations, if so desired.

Voice

MISS STAATER

Correct breathing and breath control. Placing of the voice and development of the resonance. Training of the ear and mind. Enunciation and diction. Vocalises such as Sieber (elementary and advanced), Concone and Lütgen. Song interpretation. Repertoire work, including the Classics, German Lieder, Opera, and Oratorio.

All vocal students are required to take Sight Singing, Theory, and History of Music. The requirements in Harmony, Theory, and History of Music are the same for graduation in Voice as those required in Piano. In addition, the pupil must be able to sing in at least one language besides his own.

Violin

MISS BUTCHER

Private instruction is given to each pupil. Dancla, Tours, and De-Beriot's Methods are used for beginners, followed by technical studies of Sitt, Sevcik, Schradieck, Kayser, Mazas, Fiorillo, Rode, and Kreutzer, with solo selections. Ensemble work is made a regular exercise in the college orchestra, which meets each week and plays for many of the public entertainments and chapel exercises.

Musical Organizations

CHORUS AND CHOIR. Instruction is given free to any students desiring to take the work of chorus and choir singing and sight reading.

GLEE CLUB. Separate clubs for male voices and female voices are organized by the teacher of voice, and are accessible to those that have a fair knowledge of the rudiments of vocal music.

ORCHESTRA. Opportunity to become a member of the orchestra is given to any students having sufficient musical training.

BAND. Membership in the band is open to any student possessing a fair knowledge of band music.

EXPRESSION AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

These courses of study are designed to meet the needs of those that desire to become teachers of reading and public speaking and to develop greater effectiveness as platform readers or public speakers. The aim is to cultivate the power to appreciate and interpret standard literature, and to secure simplicity and naturalness in the development of individual powers of expression. The individual needs of each pupil are studied, and care is taken to prevent affectation or artificiality. The methods pursued are creative, and embody practice in rendering selections from the best authors, and in outlining, preparing, and delivering orations.

A three years' course of study is offered. A diploma of graduation is granted in either Expression or in Public Speaking to those who, having previously completed fifteen units of high-school work, including two units of foreign language and four units of English, complete the courses as outlined. Double work may be permitted in cases of unusual ability, or previous training, but the diploma of graduation is not granted to students below Sophomore classification.

College students not desiring to take the full course in Expression or in Public Speaking may receive credit for work taken on the following basis: One year of individual weekly lessons in Expression or in Public Speaking, with their required hour of practice each day, shall, when completed, receive three semester hours credit. Not more than six hours of such credit shall be allowed.

Expression

MRS. WEST, MISS EDWARDS, AND MRS. HAMILTON

1. Voice, Action, and Reading. Voice culture, physiology of the vocal organs, breathing, open throat, tone projection, tone support, responsiveness of the voice, correcting defects of voice, articulation, pronunciation. Exercises for grace and poise in expression, gesture, and pantomime. Individual training and practice. Text-book, Leland Powers' Practice Book. Individual lesson, one-half hour; practice, five hours; class lesson, two hours; and gymnasium drill, two hours; each week throughout the year.

2. Bible Reading and Shakespeare. Class work in these branches throughout the year. Voice culture and physical culture as outlined for the first year's course. Individual training and practice of advanced grade. Individual lesson, one hour; practice, five hours; class lesson, one hour; and gymnasium drill, two hours; each week throughout the second year.

3. Dramatization. Voice culture and physical culture continued. Individual training and practice of advanced grade. Stage technic and make-up. A number of plays are prepared and presented by The Maryville College Players, an organization composed of the students taking this course. Individual lesson, one hour; practice, five hours; and class lesson one hour; each week throughout the third year.

College courses, also, including English 1, 2, 3, 5, and 6, two courses in Psychology or Education, and two courses in Bible, sufficient in number to classify the student as Junior in case he continues in college after graduating in Expression or Public Speaking must be taken.

Public Speaking

MRS. WEST AND PROFESSOR HUNTER

1. Voice, Action, and Reading. Same as Course 1 in Expression, except in the kind of individual lessons given. Text-books, Phillips' Effective Speaking, and Leland Powers' Practice Book. Individual lesson, one-half hour; practice, five hours; class lesson, two hours; and gymnasium drill, two hours; each week throughout the year.

2. Bible Reading and Shakespeare. This course is the same as Course 2 in Expression, except in the kind of individual lessons given. Individual lesson, one hour; practice, five hours; class lesson, one hour; and gymnasium drill, two hours; each week throughout the second year.

3. Public Speaking. In place of the methods pursued in Courses 1 and 2, the college courses in Public Speaking, English 12 and 13, are taken. Two hours a week throughout the third year.

College courses, also, as specified for Expression.

ART

MISS BIRD

FREE-HAND DRAWING. Class lessons in free-hand drawing are available to students of all the other departments without extra charges. These lessons are designed to lay a foundation for work on industrial and artistic lines. The student is taught to draw from still-life objects, including casts, and from nature.

FINE ARTS. Certificates of proficiency are granted to students who, after at least three years' study, have proved themselves entitled to them. First year: structural form; light and dark masses in objects; still-life groups and landscape; simple compositions and color work; perspective and memory problems; study of pictures. Charcoal, crayola, water color, and oil. The pupil submits for exhibition, four studies illustrating structural form, in black and white; four still-life groups, in black and white or in oils; and four landscapes. Second Year: elementary design; drawing and painting from still life, landscape, and life; composition and picture study, with memory work; history of art. Exhibition: two original designs; four landscapes in color; four still-life groups; four sketches from the costumed model; and one original composition. Third Year: drawing from cast and from life; landscape and outdoor figure sketching; advanced still-life work; color theory and perspective; composition and picture study; history of art. Exhibition: four applied original designs; four landscapes; two still-life groups; and two sketches from life.

Courses in china painting may be arranged for.
